THE MINERS REFUSED.

Will Not Arbitrate With Pittsburgh Operators Alone.

Aggressive Work to Be Continued in West Virginia Until the St. Louis Conference Is Held to Attempt to Call Out Other Trades—Call Issued.

COLUMBUS, Aug. 21.—The national executive board of the United Mine Workers has adjourned, after having issued the call for the conference of organized labor, to be held in St. Louis Aug. 30. The board rejected the proposition of the Pittsburgh operators for a conference to arbitrate the wage dispute in that district, claiming that such action would be prejudicial to the interests of the miners at large. The board is ready to consider overtures for the arbitration of the issues of the great strike only when these overtures come from all the operators in the competitive district, which includes Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

The board has decided not to deviate from the established policy until the result of the St. Louis conference is known. The aggressive work in the field will be continued and the efforts to spread the strike in the West Virginia district will be renewed. The success or failure of the strike hangs upon the St. Louis conference, the call for which has been endorsed by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and J. R. Sovereign, general master workman of the Knights of Labor. They maintain that the fight now being waged by the miners is one of common interest to organized labor throughout the country. At the St. Louis conference all labor organizations will be asked to join issues with the miners.

The failure to secure a general suspension in West Virginia has greatly interfered with the prospects of success, as the coal supplied from that and the few isolated districts is meeting the limited demand. The only hope of cutting off this supply appears to lie in the refusal of organized labor, in the ordinary channels of traffic and business, to refuse to handle or use this coal. If the object of the St. Louis conference is accomplished, the strike will be extended to nearly every branch of labor in the country.

The call for the conference says in part: "The real miners' strike has gone beyond a struggle for living wages. A crisis in the affairs of the nation has arrived in which all patriotic people must determine whether they will accept and consent to live under the rule of an oligarchy of wealth or whether the institutions of free government, the rights of free speech and peaceable public assemblage are to be preserved."

"The judiciary has assumed the defense of the operators, and the struggle is between tyrannical courts and the whole people. The courts, although under oath to serve the rich and poor alike, have volunteered to defend the sordid interests of the rich as against the God-given rights of the poor, and now threaten to turn the Gatling guns and the Winchester of criminals and thugs against all those who protest against their despicable restraining orders. The judiciary is prostituted to the bidding of oppressive capital, has placed the rights of property against the rights of persons and has discriminated against the many in the interest of the few."

"That 350,000 miners should be condemned to lives of drudgery and starvation by the arbitrary rulings of the courts is an insult to the beneficent creator, an outrage upon free government and a disgrace to the Christian civilization under which we live."

"The recent injunctions and their extreme application against the lawful rights of the poor, the arrest and incarceration of hundreds of innocent, inoffensive people, the general employment of armed thugs to overawe, harass and coerce the miners have so exasperated the people in localities where applied that we feel that we can no longer be responsible for the public peace."

"And to the end that a just and equitable settlement of the differences between employers and employees may be effected, the public peace, the liberty of the masses, the sacred institutions of free government preserved, and the conversions of constitutional rights, we appeal to that higher, more humane and patriotic court—the great plain people—who in times of trouble have always proven the just arbiters of every difference between diversified interests and contending elements in the government of human society. We appeal to the liberty-loving people of this great nation to send accredited delegates to St. Louis, where a convention will be held Monday, Aug. 30, 1897. The object of the convention will not be to merely protest against the usurpation and tyranny of the courts, but to formulate plans to compel a return to the principles of free government, and put said plans into practical operation."

Gatling Gun Story Denied.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 21.—Loftus Cuddy of the Cuddy-Mullen Coal company, who was quoted as saying that Gatling guns would be used to subdue the striking miners in the Pittsburgh district, denies it. Mr. Cuddy said that the operators were determined to reopen the mines, but they expected to use peaceable means.

Miners at Work Again.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Aug. 21.—Most of the local miners who were induced by the marchers to quit work have returned to the mines, and now there is only one of the mines out of operation. The marchers are still here, but feel rather discouraged.

Strikers' Demands Granted.

HAZLETON, Pa., Aug. 21.—The committee of strikers in the Honey Brook district of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company have held another conference with Mr. Lawall. He has granted all demands, and the men will likely go to work.

NO SETTLEMENT.

Operators in Illinois, Indiana and Ohio Don't Want to Settle—Pittsburg Operators Plan to Start Mines—Hanna Refuses to Help Break the Strike.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 21.—The Pittsburgh operators still have hope of gaining a conference with the miners' leaders, as Patrick Dolan wired from Columbus that he would be home today to talk over the matter.

The operators are anxious to settle the difficulty, and failing to do this peaceably, will endeavor to make their threat good to start a number of mines scattered over the district, so as to confound the strikers and create a stampede. Both sides seem as firm as ever, with the exception that the time has approached when the operators must start their mines or lose their trade for the entire winter.

The operators say regarding the demand of the strike leaders to have the whole competitive field represented:

"Illinois, Indiana and Ohio operators want the strike continued until the lake season closes. The contracts remaining unfulfilled at that time will then be turned over to the western operators to fill because of excessive freight rates from the Pittsburgh fields to the west, or they will have to be repudiated, and it would amount to the same thing, as the bulk of the trade would go to the western diggings for the same reason."

W. P. Bonney telegraphed to the Spring Valley Coal company at Springfield, Ills., which is the largest mining company in the state, and controlled by the Scott interests in Erie, to know if the Illinois operators would meet in a joint conference of all the states involved. The answer was flashed back as follows:

"Illinois operators will only settle inside state lines and will not confer with other districts."

"M. H. TAYLOR."

While no definite response could be gotten from Ohio and Indiana operators, it was definitely understood that the operators of these states did not favor a conference.

Almost every operator of any consequence in the district, with a few exceptions, have signed an agreement to assist in breaking the strike. The operators in question have guaranteed a subscription of $50,000 to start a number of mines with imported men. It is firmly believed that enough laborers can be gotten from Virginia by contractors to fill half a dozen mines equipped with machines, and enough experienced men about mines can be gotten to operate these machines.

The following operators have refused to be a party to the attempt to break the strike: James Jones, D. M. Anderson, M. A. Hanna & Co., Keeling & Co., John Byth, J. J. Stevler, James Shields, G. W. Wildman, Hartley and Marshall and a number of smaller operators.

SHINDLE STILL RUNNING.

He Will Not Withdraw Unless He Sees He Can't Win.

YORK, Pa., Aug. 21.—The publication in Philadelphia newspapers of an alleged intention on the part of R. Hathaway Shindel to withdraw his candidacy, in favor of James Beacom, brought out a crop of interviews here from York's candidate. Mr. Shindel denies the existence of any such agreement and will go into the convention on the 26th a fulfilled candidate.

He admits the improbability of his nomination in the event of Major McAuley being named for auditor general. When convinced that he can not secure the nomination, Mr. Shindel says he will withdraw in favor of the strongest man before the convention, whoever he may be. If he fails this time, he has assurances, he said, that he will be the treasurer nominee the next time.

Miss Nellie Stark of Missouri was elected daughter of the National Union Veterans' union.

Old Lady Fought the Snake.

TORONTO, Aug. 21.—Mrs. Thomas Larkins, aged 70 years, who lives but a short distance from here, discovered a large snake in her yard. The snake vanished under a board and the plucky old lady on turning up the board not only found the snake but five more. She succeeded in killing all of them and they proved to be the deadly copperhead. One was three feet in length.

A Failure at Akron.

AKRON, Aug. 21.—John F. Seiberling, a formerly prominent manufacturer, has assigned to Frances Seiberling, his nephew. The assets are about $150,000 each. His affairs have been in an unsettled condition since the failure of the J. F. Seiberling Mower and Reaper company. Failure to realize in silver mining property helped bring the failure.

Will Resume Monday.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 21.—The Union Rolling Mill company will resume operations again Monday after a shutdown lasting nearly two months owing to the scarcity of coal and the men refusing to work until the Amalgamated scale was signed. All departments will resume, giving work to between 350 and 400 men.

Killed by a Baseball.

MASSILLON, Aug. 21.—Charles Oberlin died in the country, his skull having been fractured by a baseball. He was lying down, watching the game, when a fly ball descended and struck him above the right eye.

DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE.

Extremely Active Markets Reflect Confidence in the Future.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—R. G. Dun & Co. in their Weekly Review of Trade issued today, say: Not for several years have the telegraphic reports from various cities in all parts of the country been as encouraging or shown so uniform improvement as this week. The markets are called crazy by some, but fairly represent the people whose confidence in the future is strong and increasing. Nothing appears to check it. Rumors of injury to crops are not sufficiently supported to have much influence.

The one temporary hindrance is the strike of bituminous coal miners, which interferes as yet little with industries, and seems likely to terminate within a week. The demand for money improves, taking from New York to the interior about $500,000 more than was received during the week. The offerings of commercial loans are much larger, including considerable iron and steel paper, and the course of foreign exchange is generally interpreted as an indication that specie imports cannot be long delayed.

The greatest gain has been for agriculture. Corn has advanced a little in price, but is moving very largely, so that the last year's surplus may be soon marketed, unless the new crop turns out better than many now expect.

Cotton declined an eighth because of an estimate promising the largest crop ever grown, but the market is gradually improving and some of the large mills, after a few weeks of suspension, have resumed work. Other farm products are doing well also, but wheat has advanced 11½ cents for the week, on actual transactions, with heavy purchases for export. The official estimate of yield is entirely disregarded except as an admission that the crop will be larger than that of last year, and it is commonly assumed that the yield will be 50,000,000 bushels or more, though recent reports of injury indicating the possibility of a somewhat smaller outcome have helped the advance in price.

The iron and steel industry is pushing forward in spite of the still unsettled strike of bituminous coal miners, and the enormous purchases of ore at Cleveland, and also of bits at Pittsburg, show the utmost confidence in the future. Many additional establishments have begun work during the past week, and while no material change in prices has occurred, the reports indicate fewer concessions to secure business, and a much steadier tone. The demand for finished products has decidedly improved, especially in plates, sheets and bars, and in railway supplies, particularly in car axles.

The market for hides at Chicago is again much stronger, prices having advanced with very narrow transactions, and buyers are holding off in the belief that prices have reached the top. In the woolen business a constant increase appears in the number of establishments at work, and the demand for goods has been increased.

Failures for the week have been 223 in the United States, against 280 last year, and 30 in Canada, against 27 last year.

TRIED TO LYNCH BLAKE.

The Other Kidnaper Arrested and Taken to Albany.

ALBANY, Aug. 21.—Blake, the alleged kidnaper of little Johnny Conway, has been caught in Schenectady by John F. Farrell and brought to this city. The station was filled with an angry mob and the police had great difficulty in getting the culprit from Farrell and placing him in the patrol wagon.

When they got him in the wagon fully 2,000 persons surrounded it, and cries of "lynch him," "hang him," "shoot him" enraged the mob to a point of desperation, but the horses were whipped up and plowed through the crowd, which hung to both sides of the wagon until they fell off. Mayor Thatcher managed to get in the wagon and held Blake with one hand, while he held a revolver with the other. At the police station, some blocks away, an enormous crowd had gathered, but the prisoner was landed in the chief of police's private office in safety.

Mutinous and Murderous Crew.

BUENOS AYRES, Aug. 21.—Only meager details of the terrible murder at sea on board the three-masted schooner Olive Pecker have as yet been received here. The crew of six men are at Bahia, over 1,000 miles distant, and will be sent to the United States for trial at the earliest possible date. They killed the captain and mate and fired the ship. Complaints were made of the hard work and insufficient food.

SOUNDING ALL EUROPE

U. S. Representatives Ascertaining What Will Be Done

SHOULD WE INTERVENE IN CUBA.

Minister Woodford Told to Intimate to Spain That This Country Will Take Action, Unless the Situation Speedily Improves—Grant's Policy Adopted.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Officials of the state department were very reticent when asked concerning a report in circulation that definite instructions have been given all our foreign ambassadors and ministers to European countries to sound and ascertain the attitude of European governments in case the United States should intervene in Cuba. While general denials were made by some of them, others intimated that the United States was ready to assume the position taken by President Grant in 1874, as shown by the instructions of Secretary Fish to Minister Cushing.

Although it never appears that these instructions were carried out, and there is no knowledge of what Spain would have done in the premises, it is possible that Minister Woodford will have a different report to make.

It can be stated, on information received here, that there is no truth in the report that Lord Salisbury has sent an unfavorable answer to a suggestion that the United States should interfere, the fact being that he has not replied at all to the attempt of our ambassador to sound him on the subject, and that his attitude gives reason to believe he will not oppose such action as our interests may make necessary.

Minister Woodford's instructions are to intimate to Spain that the United States will have to intervene unless the situation in Cuba speedily improves.

This in effect was the instructions which were given Mr. Cushing by Mr. Fish, and it is understood that the attitude of the United States is almost identical with the position taken during General Grant's administration. Then as now, the good offices of the United States had been tendered to Spain to bring about a settlement of the war, "but," said Secretary Fish, "the well intended proffers of the United States were unwisely rejected by Spain." The secretary reviewed the situation, which presents many similar phases to that which exists now. President Grant, said the secretary, regarded independence as the only certain and necessary solution of the Cuban question.

The attitude of the present administration is said to be on the same lines, and it is said Minister Woodford will make it clear to the Spanish authorities that our interests will make intervention by the United States imperative unless something is done speedily by Spain to improve the present situation, disastrous as it is to all our interests.

U. P. YOUNG PEOPLE.

Early Morning Prayer Meeting For Greater Spiritual Power.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 21.—Prayer for the presence and power of the Holy Ghost was the subject of the sunrise prayer meeting at the capitol grounds by the United Presbyterian Young People's union. A praise service in Tomlinson hall was conducted by Rev. D. F. McCall, D. D., general secretary-elect. At its conclusion the convention divided into sections for conference work.

The Rev. Leslie E. Hawk, evangelist of the Second synod, conducted a mid-day meeting for business men.

Resolutions offered by J. A. Duff were adopted, expressing sorrow at the death of Dr. J. M. Fulton, the organizer and first secretary of the Young People's Christian union of the United Presbyterian church.

Invitations were sent by the committee inviting the Old and New School Reformed Presbyterian churches to join the convention. The New School Reformers accepted, and have appointed a delegate to the institute. The Old School, through Dr. R. T. George, declined the invitation unless arrangements could be made by which their article of testimony regarding instrumental music would not be violated.

Rev. David McAllister, D. D., LL. D., pastor of the First Reformed Presbyterian church, Pittsburg, representing the Covenanters in the convention, spoke on "The Sabbath," and in the course of his address raised his voice against Sunday newspapers, Sunday baseball and other forms of what he characterized "desecrations of God's holy day." From the applause with which his denunciation of Sunday newspapers was received, he evidently had the convention with him.

Resolutions were adopted for equalizing the pensions of all soldiers, sailors at $8 with additional 1 cent per diem of service each month (pensions for 'isabilities at usual rates); for appointment of a committee to push the claims of comrades whose pensions have been taken from them and to push the preference of veterans for office. Miss Nellie Stark of Missouri was elected daughter of the National Union Veterans' union.

Rock Island, Ill., was chosen for the national encampment of 1898. The commander-in-chief named the following officers: Adjutant general, S. F. Hamilton, department Potomac; quartermaster general, F. F. Boyia, Potomac; judge advocate general, H. S. Prophet, Ohio; chief of staff, S. R. Stratton, Potomac; chief mustering officer, T. J. Cannon, Potomac. All officers-elect were installed.

President Hortense White of the National V. V. U. appointed Councilor Anna R. Taneyhill, Akron, outside guard, Mrs. Rhoda Ellis, Rock Island, Ill.; inside guard, Fannie Bettis, Akron.

Ex-Commander Wood, on behalf of the encampment, presented Past Commander L. F. Ellis a gold badge.

Open campfire was held last evening.

Old Lady Fought the Snake.

TORONTO, Aug. 21.—Mrs. Thomas Larkins, aged 70 years, who lives but a short distance from here, discovered a large snake in her yard. The snake vanished under a board and the plucky old lady on turning up the board not only found the snake but five more.

She succeeded in killing all of them and they proved to be the deadly copperhead. One was three feet in length.

A Failure at Akron.

AKRON, Aug. 21.—John F. Seiberling, a formerly prominent manufacturer, has assigned to Frances Seiberling, his nephew. The assets are about $150,000 each. His affairs have been in an unsettled condition since the failure of the J. F. Seiberling Mower and Reaper company. Failure to realize in silver mining property helped bring the failure.

Will Resume Monday.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 21.—The Union Rolling Mill company will resume operations again Monday after a shutdown lasting nearly two months owing to the scarcity of coal and the men refusing to work until the Amalgamated scale was signed. All departments will resume, giving work to between 350 and 400 men.

Killed by a Baseball.

MASSILLON, Aug. 21.—Charles Oberlin died in the country, his skull having been fractured by a baseball. He was lying down, watching the game, when a fly ball descended and struck him above the right eye.

DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE.

Extremely Active Markets Reflect Confidence in the Future.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—R. G. Dun & Co. in their Weekly Review of Trade issued today, say: Not for several years have the telegraphic reports from various cities in all parts of the country been as encouraging or shown so uniform improvement as this week. The markets are called crazy by some, but fairly represent the people whose confidence in the future is strong and increasing. Nothing appears to check it. Rumors of injury to crops are not sufficiently supported to have much influence.

The one temporary hindrance is the strike of bituminous coal miners, which interferes as yet little with industries, and seems likely to terminate within a week. The demand for money improves, taking from New York to the interior about $500,000 more than was received during the week. The offerings of commercial loans are much larger, including considerable iron and steel paper, and the course of foreign exchange is generally interpreted as an indication that specie imports cannot be long delayed.

The greatest gain has been for agriculture. Corn has advanced a little in price, but is moving very largely, so that the last year's surplus may be soon marketed, unless the new crop turns out better than many now expect.

Cotton declined an eighth because of an estimate promising the largest crop ever grown, but the market is gradually improving and some of the large mills, after a few weeks of suspension, have resumed work. Other farm products are doing well also, but wheat has advanced 11½ cents for the week, on actual transactions, with heavy purchases for export. The official estimate of yield is entirely disregarded except as an admission that the crop will be larger than that of last year, and it is commonly assumed that the yield will be 550,000,000 bushels or more, though recent reports of injury indicating the possibility of a somewhat smaller outcome have helped the advance in price.

The iron and steel industry is pushing forward in spite of the still unsettled strike of bituminous coal miners, and the enormous purchases of ore at Cleveland, and also of blooms at Pittsburgh, show the utmost confidence in the future. Many additional establishments have begun work during the past week, and while no material change in prices has occurred, the reports indicate fewer concessions to secure business, and a much steadier tone. The demand for finished products has decidedly improved, especially in plates, sheets and bars, and in railway supplies, particularly in car axles.

The market for hides at Chicago is again much stronger, prices having advanced with very narrow transactions, and buyers are holding off in the belief that prices have reached the top. In the woolen business a constant increase appears in the number of establishments at work, and the demand for goods has been increased.

Failures for the week have been 223 in the United States, against 280 last year, and 30 in Canada, against 27 last year.

TRIED TO LYNCH BLAKE.

The Other Kidnapers Arrested and Taken to Albany.

ALBANY, Aug. 21.—Blake, the alleged kidnap of little Johnny Conway, has been caught in Schenectady by John F. Farrell and brought to this city. The station was filled with an angry mob and the police had great difficulty in getting the culprit from Farrell and placing him in the patrol wagon.

When they got him in the wagon fully 2,000 persons surrounded it, and cries of "lynch him," "hang him," "shoot him" enraged the mob to a point of desperation, but the horses were whipped up and plowed through the crowd, which hung to both sides of the wagon until they fell off. Mayor Thatcher managed to get in the wagon and held Blake with one hand, while he held a revolver with the other. At the police station, some blocks away, an enormous crowd had gathered, but the prisoner was landed in the chief of police's private office in safety.

Mutinous and Murderous Crew.

BUENOS AYRES, Aug. 21.—Only meager details of the terrible murder at sea on board the three-masted schooner Olive Pecker have as yet been received here. The crew of six men are at Bahia, over 1,000 miles distant, and will be sent to the United States for trial at the earliest possible date. They killed the captain and mate and fired the ship. Complaints were made of the hard work and insufficient food.

SOUNDING ALL EUROPE

U. S. Representatives Ascertaining What Will Be Done

SHOULD WE INTERVENE IN CUBA.

Minister Woodford Told to Intimate to Spain That This Country Will Take Action, Unless the Situation Speedily Improves—Grant's Policy Adopted.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Officials of the state department were very reticent when asked concerning a report in circulation that definite instructions have been given all our foreign ambassadors and ministers to European countries to sound and ascertain the attitude of European governments in case the United States should intervene in Cuba. While general denials were made by some of them, others intimated that the United States was ready to assume the position taken by President Grant in 1874, as shown by the instructions of Secretary Fish to Minister Cushing.

Although it never appears that these instructions were carried out, and there is no knowledge of what Spain would have done in the premises, it is possible that Minister Woodford will have a different report to make.

It can be stated, on information received here, that there is no truth in the report that Lord Salisbury has sent an unfavorable answer to a suggestion that the United States should interfere, the fact being that he has not replied at all to the attempt of our ambassador to sound him on the subject, and that his attitude gives reason to believe he will not oppose such action as our interests may make necessary.

Minister Woodford's instructions are to intimate to Spain that the United States will have to intervene unless the situation in Cuba speedily improves.

This in effect was the instructions which were given Mr. Cushing by Mr. Fish, and it is understood that the attitude of the United States is almost identical with the position taken during General Grant's administration. Then as now, the good offices of the United States had been tendered to Spain to bring about a settlement of the war, "but," said Secretary Fish, "the well intended proffers of the United States were unwisely rejected by Spain." The secretary reviewed the situation, which presents many similar phases to that which exists now. President Grant, said the secretary, regarded independence as the only certain and necessary solution of the Cuban question.

The attitude of the present administration is said to be on the same lines, and it is said Minister Woodford will make it clear to the Spanish authorities that our interests will make intervention by the United States imperative unless something is done speedily by Spain to improve the present situation, disastrous as it is to all our interests.

U. P. YOUNG PEOPLE.

Early Morning Prayer Meeting For Greater Spiritual Power.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 21.—Prayer for the presence and power of the Holy Ghost was the subject of the sunrise prayer meeting at the capitol grounds by the United Presbyterian Young People's union. A praise service in Tomlinson hall was conducted by Rev. D. F. McCall, D. D., general secretary-elect. At its conclusion the convention divided into sections for conference work.

The Rev. Leslie E. Hawk, evangelist of the Second synod, conducted a mid-day meeting for business men.

Resolutions offered by J. A. Duff were adopted, expressing sorrow at the death of Dr. J. M. Fulton, the organizer and first secretary of the Young People's Christian union of the United Presbyterian church.

Invitations were sent by the committee inviting the Old and New School Reformed Presbyterian churches to join the convention. The New School Reformers accepted, and have appointed a delegate to the institute. The Old School, through Dr. R. T. George, declined the invitation unless arrangements could be made by which their article of testimony regarding instrumental music would not be violated.

Rev. David McAllister, D. D., LL. D., pastor of the First Reformed Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh, representing the Covenanters in the convention, spoke on "The Sabbath," and in the course of his address raised his voice against Sunday newspapers, Sunday baseball and other forms of what he characterized "desecrations of God's holy day." From the applause with which his denunciation of Sunday newspapers was received, he evidently had the convention with him.

Azcarraga Is Premier.

SAN SEBASTIAN, Aug. 21.—The queen regent has conferred the premiership upon General Azcarraga, who is also minister of war. The cabinet will not be modified.

BOYS ARE DOING WELL

Liverpool Players Are Making Their Presence Known

OUT IN THE BASEBALL WORLD

Carey Has Started Well With Reading and Godwin is Doing His Best—Shaw Was Hurt—A Word About Mercer—Other News of the Diamond.

George Carey celebrated his first game on the initial bag for the Reading team by making three hits out of four times at bat, and having 13 putouts, one assist and no errors. His record in the last eight games played is 32 times at bat, 11 hits, 78 putouts, five assists and no errors. Sporting Life this week takes a page in explaining his case, whereby he was awarded to Reading.

John Godwin, in the last three games played with the Athletics, went to bat eight times, made three hits, had three putouts, eight assists and no errors.

Alf Shaw was injured at Toronto last week, but will be able to be in the game in a few days. In his last two games played with Syracuse he had three putouts.

Gaston, the Scio college pitcher, who is well known here, is pitching good ball for Toronto.

The Toledo correspondent in speaking of players who graduated from that city, says: "Curt Welch was one of the best players of the old American association team in '84, and soon after he left Toledo he ranked as the greatest center fielder in the world."

Timmy Twaddle is playing good ball in left field for Auburn, but his team is now in second place in the New York league.

Winnie Mercer has thus far lost 18 games and won 12. The Washington correspondent says: "Mercer went in against the Phillies the third game, and allowed them but five hits without a run. By the way, Mercer seems to have your hard hitters on his staff this year, he having won all three games pitched so far. In the first, they made seven hits, in the second, six hits and in the last, five hits. Pretty good record against such batters."

Bobby Cargo is playing a fast game for Canandaigua, and is hitting the ball hard.

The Wellsville clerks yesterday afternoon defeated a team from this city by a score of 21 to 11.

The batteries were: Wellsville—Athen, Patterson and Russell. Liverpool—Simms and Reed.

The game yesterday afternoon between the Goodwin and West End teams resulted in a victory for the former by a score of 23 to 21.

Gone to Buffalo.

Heavy travel to Buffalo, caused by the Grand Army encampment, has commenced in earnest. This morning quite a number went from this city, and among them were J. D. West and wife, Thomas Arbuckle and wife, A. S. Young and family, W. T. McCain, Edwin McClure and William Liebschner. All will remain until next Saturday.

The Buffalo Excursion.

Agent Adam Hill desires that all persons, who have signified their intention of going to Buffalo with the Liverpool party next Monday, will call at the Cleveland and Pittsburg ticket office Saturday afternoon and have their tickets signed. It is believed that 100 persons will fill the two special cars. *

Anticipating Heavy Travel.

Agent Adam Hill has received a large batch of tickets to be used in the Steubenville centennial excursion. They were received recently and are very neat. The railroad company is anticipating heavy travel and has made its arrangements accordingly.

Merchants' Excursion to New York.

On August 27, 28, 29, 30 and 31 the Pennsylvania lines will have a cheap excursion to New York for merchants. For particulars apply to nearest Pennsylvania line ticket agent, or address J. K. DILLON, District passenger agent, Pittsburgh, Pa. *

Cleaned the Windows.

No arrests were made last evening, and Janitor Monahan had the coop to himself. City hall presented a neat appearance this morning, as the janitor cleaned all the windows yesterday. It was the quarterly cleaning.

Leave your order for one of those handsome fall suits or overcoats at Fred Laufenberger's.

Silk Petticoats.

Unless a woman has an ample fortune or a fondness for ruffles hanging in strings she should not wear unlined silk petticoats. They are of all luxuries the most expensive. The fourth wearing will show flounces fraying sadly, and the sixth will reveal the body of the skirt beginning to "shred." So that if a silk petticoat is among the things a woman cannot do without let her make it over some lining. French sateen of the same or contrasting shade is excellent. It is pliable and does not interfere with the desired "rustle." If this is too warm for one, those stiff muslins or dimity in contrasting or like colors line well. This need not be carried out in the ruffle, for that may be made double if extra stiffness is desired. Putting the ruffle on without a foundation is not advisable. Let the skirt be the right length; then place the ruffle on it. Be sure to bind the hem of the skirt with velvet braid. A ruffle bound with narrow satin ribbon is more practicable than pinking. The best pinking is put to fringe rapidly, and after that there is no remedy except to clip it off, which quickly reduces the ruffle in size.

Lace ruffles on any underskirts except for evening dress are tabooed. A silk walking skirt may have one or two wide bands of broad lace insertion—guipure is the most serviceable—about the ruffle and above it. Make the skirt on double draw strings. Don't trust to buttons or hooks. These strings should be of the best quality double faced satin ribbon. If you can't afford this, then get silk braid, for an inferior grade of ribbon twists and spoils the trim look at the waist. The lightest shades of silk in underskirts is now permissible under the severest walking gown, but they are not so pretty as the rich, dark ones. Mahogany red, or hunter's green, with black guipure lace, makes the prettiest. —New York Commercial.

Our First Women.

During the first 200 years of our existence it would have been almost absurd to expect that women would be extensively educated outside the home. The country was poor, and struggling with new conditions, and great financial crises swept over it. There were wars and rumors of wars. Until after 1812-15 American independence was not an assured fact. Whatever may be said of the present, woman's place in America then was in the home, and nobly did she fill that place. That she had not been wholly uneducated in even elegant learning is evidenced by the share she took in literature and in the discussion of religious and public matters, and in such personal records as that of Elder Faunce, who eulogized Alice Southworth Bradford for "her exertions in promoting the literary improvement and the deportment of the rising generation."

Dame schools were early established for girls, and here were often found the sons of the farmer and the mechanic. These were established in Massachusetts in 1635. Late in 1700 girls were admitted through the summer to "Latin schools" where boys were taught in winter, and in 1789 women began to be associated with men as teachers. In 1771 Connecticut founded a system of free schools in which boys and girls were taught. In 1794 the Moravians founded a school for girls at Bethlehem, Pa. Here were educated the sisters of Peter Cooper, the mother of President Arthur and many women who became exponents of culture.—Mrs. Helen Kendrick Johnson in Popular Science Monthly.

Mrs. Henrietta Hovey.

The New York Journal tells an interesting story about Mrs. Henrietta Hovey, the famous exponent of Delsarte principles, and her control of the smart set in the metropolis:

"She revolutionized many customs. She more than any other person did away with the custom of shaking hands in society. 'It is a superfluous custom,' she urged. 'It presupposes equality, and as people in society are on an equal footing it is superfluous.' Mrs. Hovey has also revolutionized the bow of ceremony, both in New York and London. The old time style of bowing, in which the foot played an important part, is characterized by this progressive Delsartean as 'merely a modification of the milkmaid courtesy.' 'The bow of ceremony,' Mrs. Hovey says, 'should express, above everything, reverence.' To ladies who were to be presented at court Mrs. Hovey said: 'Bow in the foot scraping, genuflection fashion, and the queen will scarcely notice you, but bow as I teach you and you cannot fail to catch the royal attention.'

"Mrs. Hovey begins bowing by dropping the eyes. Next the head bends. Then the shoulders and body and limbs sink until the person is almost on the knees. The recovery is slow and graceful and expresses reverence almost as much as the bow itself. This is the court bow, and it is a modification of this courtesy which Mrs. Hovey teaches fashionable women for their use in acknowledging introductions.

"When The Journal interviewer asked Mrs. Hovey what constitutes a well bred snub, the lady said earnestly: 'A lady must not stare insolently at the person to be snubbed. To pretend not to see the person is cowardly. She must bow, but she must so retard the action of the bow as to convey her dislike to the object of her contempt. There is no other well bred snub.'

WOMAN'S WORLD.

FORTUNE MADE OUT OF A LABEL IN WOMEN'S HATS.

Marie Corelli on the Marriage Mart—Putting Up a Portiere—Women in Horticulture—Silk Petticoats—Our First Women. Mrs. Henrietta Hovey.

A jet skyrocket, a bit of colored ribbon, a feather and a Virot label—that's all. The whole business probably cost $1.50 at wholesale rates, but a Virot trimmer gave it a particular twist and basted the Virot label inside, and you are paying for the twist and the label, my dear lady, and you know it.

He, whoever he is who pays your bills, stormed, fretted, perhaps swore, but you gayly lobbied the bill through the house with all sorts of feminine cajoleries, and it was paid. And there were others—many others—who also fell victims to the Virot twist and label and who lobbied the Virot bills through the house, and from these things sprang the Maison Virot, limited, with a capital of over $1,050,000. How much cajoling you must have done, my dear ladies, to establish this business, preferred shares in which may be had at $25 apiece and ordinary shares $5 apiece!

The Earl of Warwick, whose wife (better known as Lady Brooke) kept the Princess of Wales from attending Mr. Whitelaw Reid's dinner a short time ago, is to take the chairmanship of the company. Think of it! Who would be base enough to haggle over the price of a Virot hat after this, when every hat you buy is money in an earl's pocket? The English aristocracy has never been averse to the turning of an honest penny in hats or beer—pork pies and tape it has never countenanced.

The founder of Virot retired in 1885 with a huge fortune, the profits of the business amounting to over $80,000 a year. During the exhibition year, 1889, the net profits amounted to $120,000. It has been increasing ever since. Vanity, vanity, thy name is profit.—New York Evening World.

Marie Corelli on the Marriage Mart.

The author of "Barabbas," writing in The Lady's Realm, finds a congenial theme for her profuse invective in the modern marriage market. Beginning by declaring that "never did a greater generation of civilized hypocrites cumber the face of the globe than cumber it today," she goes on to compare the Turkish slave market and its victims with the London "season."

"It is an absolute grim fact that in England women—those of the upper classes, at any rate—are not today married, but bought for a price. The high and noble intention of marriage is entirely lost sight of in the scheming, the bargaining and the pricing."

True marriage is to the writer a religious unity. "Nothing can make marriage an absolutely sacred thing except the great love, combined with the pure and faithful intention, of the human pair involved. They have to realize first of all that a God exists, and that before that God, whom they solemnly acknowledge and believe in, they are one."

She tells a sweet story of an artist who lives in perfect happiness with his wife in a cottage in Capri on a hundred a year and extols his plain living and high feeling as an example to English women. Then she draws her contrast:

"There can be nothing more hideous, more like a foretaste of hell itself, than the life to life position of a man and woman who have been hustled into matrimony, or rather, as I prefer to put it, sold to each other for so many thousands per annum, and who, when the wedding fuss is over and the feminine 'pictorialists' have done gushing about the millinery of the occasion, find themselves alone together without a single sympathy in common, with nothing but the clink of gold and the rustle of bank notes for their heart music, and with a barrier of steadily increasing repulsion and disgust rising between them every day. And this is what happens in nine cases out of ten in fashionable modern matrimony."

Putting Up a Portiere.

She—I had the worst time this morning. I hung a portiere in my room. I wouldn't let the upholsterer do it, and I wouldn't let anybody help me, because I wanted it in a particular way.

He—I didn't know you knew about—She—I don't, but I was bound I'd do it. Well, I'd asked them where I bought the pole to have it sawed off the right length, and they hadn't done it, and I had to get a saw and do it myself. I couldn't saw it even, and I got all out of patience, saying "Good gracious!" till Aunt Mary looked at me over her glasses. She doesn't approve of expletives for young women.

He—You are sure it was "Good gracious?"

She—It was—at that stage. I got the brackets up all right, but I drove a nail part way into an end of the pole to start a place to screw in the fancy end, and when I tried to pull it out I broke it square off and I couldn't pull the piece out. I was so provoked!

He—What did you say then?

She—I said, "Plague take it!" There was nothing to do but saw off an inch or so to get a fresh end. I had a fearful time doing it. It looked as if somebody had chewed it off, and I sawed my fingers.

He—And you said—

She—I said "Confound it!" right out loud and Aunt Mary went out of the room. I got the pole up finally and stretched my arms till they were lame and got both ends screwed on and then I found I'd forgotten to put the rings on. I was perfectly desperate. My neck ached, and my back, and I was getting dizzy—

He—And you continued your remarks?

She—I said, "Damn it!" I couldn't help it. I unscrewed one of the ends and got the rings on and screwed it back again, and then I hung the curtain, and goodness knows how long I was at it. I had it all up once. I found I'd turned it wrong side to and hung it four times altogether and my hair was all tumbled down and every bone in my body ached and my fingers bled where I'd sawed them—

He—And may I inquire what—

She—Yes, you may. And I don't care a snap if I did either. An angel from heaven couldn't have said anything else. But it was as well that Aunt Mary had gone out of the room.—Memphis Scimitar.

Women in Horticulture.

According to the census of 1890, there were 312 commercial greenhouses, or about 1 in 15, owned and managed by women. We have a personal acquaintance with several women who are successful retail florists. Other women, to our knowledge, are making a success of raising carnations and other flowers for the wholesale trade. These people soon learn that the business of raising and selling flowers is beset by much care and labor that do not come under the head of poetry. And yet nearly all women florists that we have met were led into the business because they first of all loved flowers. It adds to the delight and success of any occupation if one has a love thereof.

There is no question that, as a rule, women have a greater fondness than men for flowers. Why, therefore, should they not engage in growing and handling them for profit? The rougher work about flower raising, such as the care of greenhouse furnaces, the handling of soil and manure and the like, can easily be done by men who work for moderate wages. If women are successful as florists, they are equally so as raisers of vegetables and smaller fruits, especially strawberries. They direct the rougher work, help to prepare the produce for customers and perhaps take in hand the selling, thus keeping closely in touch with the state of the market.

Generally speaking, we think that the raising of strawberries near our best markets is further from being overdone than that of almost any other kind of produce. The consumption is enormous, and fresh fruit brought quickly from the fields, without a large distance intervening, always will sell considerably higher than fruit long from the vines that has been shipped. Much of the work of picking and handling small fruits is well suited to be done by women.—Vick's Magazine.

The Legal Status of Women.

Jessie J. Cassidy's little book, "The Legal Status of Women," is creating quite a sensation. Some of the laws in which women are particularly interested are decidedly queer. In Idaho there is no provision for compelling the husband to furnish support for the wife. On the contrary, if he is infirm, his wife must support him. In Nebraska "the husband is expected to furnish suitable maintenance, according to his idea of suitability." If his idea is hazy, no provision is made for that. In New Mexico "nothing specific is required." Nevada requires the husband to "furnish only the necessities." If his wife happens to be of a luxurious frame of mind, she will have to furnish her own luxuries. The law does not prohibit this. In Arkansas "no support for the wife is compelled by law, unless she secures a divorce."

The average boy can work more havoc to the peace of a neighborhood than can a whole regiment of soldiers or an escaped menagerie of wild beasts. Wise mothers are careful to train their boys to a regard of the rights of others.

The happiest woman is she who does not spend half her time endeavoring to remove the gray hairs her age warrants her in possessing.

"To tell the truth my mother has lived with one foot in the grave," writes Mrs. Eugene Stantzenberg, of No. 1604 Walker Ave., Houston, Texas, in a letter to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y.

"With a most thankful heart I will tell you about the wonderful cure effected in her case. She has been a perfect wreck for seven long years. No words can describe what she has suffered. She could not sleep on account of severe pains. She tried every doctor around here and spent hundreds of dollars without benefit. After hearing of your wonderful remedies I wrote to you. My mother has taken six bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and is now perfectly cured. Please receive the heartiest thanks and blessings from my father and seven children for saving the life of dear mother. May God bless you and your Institution, is the wish of your friend."

Tens of thousands of women have found complete and permanent relief from obstinate and seemingly incurable disease by using the wonderful remedies referred to above. The "Golden Medical Discovery" possesses the peculiar property of nourishing and vitalizing the blood with the life-giving red corpuscles which build up healthy flesh and muscular strength.

In the special weaknesses and diseases of the feminine organs, the "Favorite Prescription" is a perfect and positive specific. It is the only scientific medicine prepared for that purpose by an educated physician and specialist in that particular field of practice.

For weak and nervous women these two medicines taken conjointly constitute the most marvelously successful course of treatment known to the medical profession.

For nearly 30 years Dr. Pierce has been chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., at the head of a splendid staff of associate specialists, graduates from the leading medical universities of America and Europe.

HOME SECRETS.

East Liverpool Mothers Keep Them, but With a Little Light There Need be None.

How carefully mother guards the secrets of her boys and girls. At night, as she carefully tucks the bed-clothes around them, she chides and warns that mother will be angry if they repeat last night's offense, softly saying to herself, "It's only a habit, but I must break them of it." This is mother's mistake. The children cannot help it, and sweet, clean, dry beds can be the resting place of every child when it is understood that the cause is not a habit, but a weakness that can be cured. Active life of the little ones tends to weakening the kidneys, and weak kidneys means inability to retain the urine. This is a condition, not a habit, and should have the same prompt attention you would give to the marked symptoms of any disease. One Doan's Kidney Pills taken twice a day and at bedtime will strengthen the kidneys of a child, and in a short time there will be no cause to scold, for the so-called habit will disappear promptly.

Here's an Ashtabula mother that adds her endorsement to our words:

Mrs. E. O. Cruica, residing at 239 Prospect street, says: "I got Doan's Kidney Pills for my little boy, thirteen years of age, who has been, since he was nine years old, troubled with a weakness of the urinary organs. At that time he was taken with spasms that physicians attributed to worms. These were checked in time, but his kidneys did not regain their strength, and non-retention of urine while sleeping has embarrassed the little fellow very much and caused very much annoyance to me. We have had him treated by physicians without his obtaining any relief in that particular way, and you can realize how pleased we are to be able to check it by using Doan's Kidney Pills. Immediately we began his kidneys grew stronger. I know that there are many children that way, and that mothers would be only too glad to learn of a cure. I can, without any hesitancy, recommend those pills for that, and you may refer to me in that respect."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50. Sent by mail on receipt of price, by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

His record in the last eight games played is 32 times at bat, 11 hits, 78 putouts, five assists and no errors. Sporting Life this week takes a page in explaining his case, whereby he was awarded to Reading.

John Godwin, in the last three games played with the Athletics, went to bat eight times, made three hits, had three putouts, eight assists and no errors.

Alf Shaw was injured at Toronto last week, but will be able to be in the game in a few days. In his last two games played with Syracuse he had three putouts.

Gaston, the Scio college pitcher, who is well known here, is pitching good ball for Toronto.

The Toledo correspondent in speaking of players who graduated from that city, says: "Curt Welch was one of the best players of the old American association team in '84, and soon after he left Toledo he ranked as the greatest center fielder in the world."

Winnie Mercer has thus far lost 18 games and won 12. The Washington correspondent says: "Mercer went in against the Phillies the third game, and allowed them but five hits without a run. By the way, Mercer seems to have your hard hitters on his staff this year, he having won all three games pitched so far. In the first, they made seven hits, in the second, six hits and in the last, five hits. Pretty good record against such batters."

Bobby Cargo is playing a fast game for Canandaigua, and is hitting the ball hard.

The Wellsville clerks yesterday afternoon defeated a team from this city by a score of 21 to 11.

The batteries were: Wellsville—Aren, Patterson and Russell. Liverpool—Simms and Reed.

The game yesterday afternoon between the Goodwin and West End teams resulted in a victory for the former by a score of 23 to 21.

Gone to Buffalo.

Heavy travel to Buffalo, caused by the Grand Army encampment, has commenced in earnest. This morning quite a number went from this city, and among them were J. D. West and wife, Thomas Arbuckle and wife, A. S. Young and family, W. T. McCain, Edwin McClure and William Liebschner. All will remain until next Saturday.

The Buffalo Excursion.

Agent Adam Hill desires that all persons, who have signified their intention of going to Buffalo with the Liverpool party next Monday, will call at the Cleveland and Pittsburg ticket office Saturday afternoon and have their tickets signed. It is believed that 100 persons will fill the two special cars. *

Anticipating Heavy Travel.

Agent Adam Hill has received a large batch of tickets to be used in the Steubenville centennial excursion. They were received recently and are very neat. The railroad company is anticipating heavy travel and has made its arrangements accordingly.

Merchants' Excursion to New York.

On August 27, 28, 29, 30 and 31 the Pennsylvania lines will have a cheap excursion to New York for merchants. For particulars apply to nearest Pennsylvania line ticket agent, or address J. K. DILLON, District passenger agent, Pittsburg, Pa. *

Cleaned the Windows.

No arrests were made last evening, and Janitor Monahan had the coop to himself. City hall presented a neat appearance this morning, as the janitor cleaned all the windows yesterday. It was the quarterly cleaning.

Silk Petticoats.

Unless a woman has an ample fortune or a fondness for ruffles hanging in strings she should not wear unlined silk petticoats. They are of all luxuries the most expensive. The fourth wearing will show flounces fraying sadly, and the sixth will reveal the body of the skirt beginning to "shred." So that if a silk petticoat is among the things a woman cannot do without let her make it over some lining. French sateen of the same or contrasting shade is excellent. It is pliable and does not interfere with the desired "rustle." If this is too warm for one, those stiff muslins or dimity in contrasting or like colors line well. This need not be carried out in the ruffle, for that may be made double if extra stiffness is desired. Putting the ruffle on without a foundation is not advisable. Let the skirt be the right length; then place the ruffle on it. Be sure to bind the hem of the skirt with velvet braid. A ruffle bound with narrow satin ribbon is more practicable than pinking. The best pinking is put to fringe rapidly, and after that there is no remedy except to clip it off, which quickly reduces the ruffle in size.

Lace ruffles on any underskirts except for evening dress are tabooed. A silk walking skirt may have one or two wide bands of broad lace insertion—guipure is the most serviceable—about the ruffle and above it. Make the skirt on double draw strings. Don't trust to buttons or hooks. These strings should be of the best quality double faced satin ribbon. If you can't afford this, then get silk braid, for an inferior grade of ribbon twists and spoils the trim look at the waist. The lightest shades of silk in underskirts is now permissible under the severest walking gown, but they are not so pretty as the rich, dark ones. Mahogany red, or hunter's green, with black guipure lace, makes the prettiest. —New York Commercial.

Our First Women.

During the first 200 years of our existence it would have been almost absurd to expect that women would be extensively educated outside the home. The country was poor, and struggling with new conditions, and great financial crises swept over it. There were wars and rumors of wars. Until after 1812-15 American independence was not an assured fact. Whatever may be said of the present, woman's place in America then was in the home, and nobly did she fill that place. That she had not been wholly uneducated in even elegant learning is evidenced by the share she took in literature and in the discussion of religious and public matters, and in such personal records as that of Elder Faunce, who eulogized Alice Southworth Bradford for "her exertions in promoting the literary improvement and the deportment of the rising generation."

Dame schools were early established for girls, and here were often found the sons of the farmer and the mechanic. These were established in Massachusetts in 1635. Late in 1700 girls were admitted through the summer to "Latin schools" where boys were taught in winter, and in 1789 women began to be associated with men as teachers. In 1771 Connecticut founded a system of free schools in which boys and girls were taught. In 1794 the Moravians founded a school for girls at Bethlehem, Pa. Here were educated the sisters of Peter Cooper, the mother of President Arthur and many women who became exponents of culture.—Mrs. Helen Kendrick Johnson in Popular Science Monthly.

Mrs. Henrietta Hovey.

The New York Journal tells an interesting story about Mrs. Henrietta Hovey, the famous exponent of Delsarte principles, and her control of the smart set in the metropolis:

"She revolutionized many customs. She more than any other person did away with the custom of shaking hands in society. 'It is a superfluous custom,' she urged. 'It presupposes equality, and as people in society are on an equal footing it is superfluous.' Mrs. Hovey has also revolutionized the bow of ceremony, both in New York and London. The old time style of bowing, in which the foot played an important part, is characterized by this progressive Delsartean as 'merely a modification of the milkmaid courtesy.' 'The bow of ceremony,' Mrs. Hovey says, 'should express, above everything, reverence.' To ladies who were to be presented at court Mrs. Hovey said: 'Bow in the foot scraping, genuflection fashion, and the queen will scarcely notice you, but bow as I teach you and you cannot fail to catch the royal attention.'"

"Mrs. Hovey begins bowing by dropping the eyes. Next the head bends. Then the shoulders and body and limbs sink until the person is almost on the knees. The recovery is slow and graceful and expresses reverence almost as much as the bow itself. This is the court bow, and it is a modification of this courtesy which Mrs. Hovey teaches fashionable women for their use in acknowledging introductions."

"When The Journal interviewer asked Mrs. Hovey what constitutes a well bred snub, the lady said earnestly: 'A lady must not stare insolently at the person to be snubbed. To pretend not to see the person is cowardly. She must bow, but she must so retard the action of the bow as to convey her dislike to the object of her contempt. There is no other well bred snub.'"

WOMAN'S WORLD.

FORTUNE MADE OUT OF A LABEL IN WOMEN'S HATS.

Marie Corelli on the Marriage Mart—Putting Up a Portiere—Women in Horticulture—Silk Petticoats—Our First Women. Mrs. Henrietta Hovey.

A jet skyrocket, a bit of colored ribbon, a feather and a Virot label—that's all. The whole business probably cost $1.50 at wholesale rates, but a Virot trimmer gave it a particular twist and basted the Virot label inside, and you are paying for the twist and the label, my dear lady, and you know it.

He, whoever he is who pays your bills, stormed, fretted, perhaps swore, but you gayly lobbied the bill through the house with all sorts of feminine cajoleries, and it was paid. And there were others—many others—who also fell victims to the Virot twist and label and who lobbied the Virot bills through the house, and from these things sprang the Maison Virot, limited, with a capital of over $1,050,000. How much cajoling you must have done, my dear ladies, to establish this business, preferred shares in which may be had at $25 apiece and ordinary shares $5 apiece!

The Earl of Warwick, whose wife (better known as Lady Brooke) kept the Princess of Wales from attending Mr. Whitlaw Reid's dinner a short time ago, is to take the chairmanship of the company. Think of it! Who would be base enough to haggle over the price of a Virot hat after this, when every hat you buy is money in an earl's pocket? The English aristocracy has never been averse to the turning of an honest penny in hats or beer—pork pies and tape it has never countenanced.

The founder of Virot retired in 1885 with a huge fortune, the profits of the business amounting to over $80,000 a year. During the exhibition year, 1889, the net profits amounted to $130,000. It has been increasing ever since. Vanity, vanity, thy name is profit.—New York Evening World.

Marie Corelli on the Marriage Mart.

The author of "Barabbas," writing in The Lady's Realm, finds a congenial theme for her profuse invective in the modern marriage market. Beginning by declaring that "never did a greater generation of civilized hypocrites cumber the face of the globe than cumber it today," she goes on to compare the Turkish slave market and its victims with the London "season."

"It is an absolute grim fact that in England women—those of the upper classes, at any rate—are not today married, but bought for a price. The high and noble intention of marriage is entirely lost sight of in the scheming, the bargaining and the pricing."

True marriage is to the writer a religious unity. "Nothing can make marriage an absolutely sacred thing except the great love, combined with the pure and faithful intention, of the human pair involved. They have to realize first of all that a God exists, and that before that God, whom they solemnly acknowledge and believe in, they are one."

She tells a sweet story of an artist who lives in perfect happiness with his wife in a cottage in Capri on a hundred a year and extols his plain living and high feeling as an example to English women. Then she draws her contrast:

"There can be nothing more hideous, more like a foretaste of hell itself, than the life to life position of a man and woman who have been hustled into matrimony, or rather, as I prefer to put it, sold to each other for so many thousands per annum, and who, when the wedding fuss is over and the feminine 'pictorial' have done gushing about the millinery of the occasion, find themselves alone together without a single sympathy in common, with nothing but the clink of gold and the rustle of bank notes for their heart music, and with a barrier of steadily increasing repulsion and disgust rising between them every day. And this is what happens in nine cases out of ten in fashionable modern matrimony."

Putting Up a Portiere.

She—I had the worst time this morning. I hung a portiere in my room. I wouldn't let the upholsterer do it, and I wouldn't let anybody help me, because I wanted it in a particular way.

He—I didn't know you knew about—
She—I don't, but I was bound I'd do it. Well, I'd asked them where I bought the pole to have it sawed off the right length, and they hadn't done it, and I had to get a saw and do it myself. I couldn't saw it even, and I got all out of patience, saying "Good gracious!" till Aunt Mary looked at me over her glasses. She doesn't approve of expletives for young women.

He—You are sure it was "Good gracious?"

She—It was—at that stage. I got the brackets up all right, but I drove a nail part way into an end of the pole to start a place to screw in the fancy end, and when I tried to pull it out I broke it square off and I couldn't pull the piece out. I was so provoked!

He—What did you say then?

She—I said, "Plague take it!" There was nothing to do but saw off an inch or so to get a fresh end. I had a fearful time doing it. It looked as if somebody had chewed it off, and I sawed my fingers.

He—And you said—

She—I said "Confound it!" right out loud and Aunt Mary went out of the room. I got the pole up finally and stretched my arms till they were lame and got both ends screwed on and then I found I'd forgotten to put the rings on. I was perfectly desperate. My neck ached, and my back, and I was getting dizzy—

He—And you continued your remarks?

She—I said, "Damn it!" I couldn't help it. I unscrewed one of the ends and got the rings on and screwed it back again, and then I hung the curtain, and goodness knows how long I was at it. I had it all up once. I found I'd turned it wrong side to and hung it four times altogether and my hair was all tumbled down and every bone in my body ached and my fingers bled where I'd sawed them—

He—And may I inquire what—

She—Yes, you may. And I don't care a snap if I did either. An angel from heaven couldn't have said anything else. But it was as well that Aunt Mary had gone out of the room.—Memphis Scimitar.

Women in Horticulture.

According to the census of 1890, there were 312 commercial greenhouses, or about 1 in 15, owned and managed by women. We have a personal acquaintance with several women who are successful retail florists. Other women, to our knowledge, are making a success of raising carnations and other flowers for the wholesale trade. These people soon learn that the business of raising and selling flowers is beset by much care and labor that do not come under the head of poetry. And yet nearly all women florists that we have met were led into the business because they first of all loved flowers. It adds to the delight and success of any occupation if one has a love therefor.

There is no question that, as a rule, women have a greater fondness than men for flowers. Why, therefore, should they not engage in growing and handling them for profit? The rougher work about flower raising, such as the care of greenhouse furnaces, the handling of soil and manure and the like, can easily be done by men who work for moderate wages. If women are successful as florists, they are equally so as raisers of vegetables and smaller fruits, especially strawberries. They direct the rougher work, help to prepare the produce for customers and perhaps take in hand the selling, thus keeping closely in touch with the state of the market.

Generally speaking, we think that the raising of strawberries near our best markets is further from being overdone than that of almost any other kind of produce. The consumption is enormous, and fresh fruit brought quickly from the fields, without a large distance intervening, always will sell considerably higher than fruit long from the vines that has been shipped. Much of the work of picking and handling small fruits is well suited to be done by women.—Vick's Magazine.

The Legal Status of Women.

Jessie J. Cassidy's little book, "The Legal Status of Women," is creating quite a sensation. Some of the laws in which women are particularly interested are decidedly queer. In Idaho there is no provision for compelling the husband to furnish support for the wife. On the contrary, if he is infirm, his wife must support him. In Nebraska "the husband is expected to furnish suitable maintenance, according to his idea of suitability." If his idea is hazy, no provision is made for that. In New Mexico "nothing specific is required." Nevada requires the husband to "furnish only the necessities." If his wife happens to be of a luxurious frame of mind, she will have to furnish her own luxuries. The law does not prohibit this. In Arkansas "no support for the wife is compelled by law, unless she secures a divorce."

The average boy can work more havoc to the peace of a neighborhood than can a whole regiment of soldiers or an escaped menagerie of wild beasts. Wise mothers are careful to train their boys to a regard of the rights of others.

The happiest woman is she who does not spend half her time endeavoring to remove the gray hairs her age warrants her in possessing.

"To tell the truth my mother has lived with one foot in the grave," writes Mrs. Eugene Stantzenberg, of No. 1604 Walker Ave., Houston, Texas, in a letter to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. "With a most thankful heart I will tell you about the wonderful cure effected in her case. She has been a perfect wreck for seven long years. No words can describe what she has suffered. She could not sleep on account of severe pains. She tried every doctor around here and spent hundreds of dollars without benefit. After hearing of your wonderful remedies I wrote to you. My mother has taken six bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and six of the 'Favorite Prescription,' and is now perfectly cured. Please receive the heartiest thanks and blessings from my father and seven children for saving the life of dear mother. May God bless you and your Institution, is the wish of your friend."

Tens of thousands of women have found complete and permanent relief from obstinate and seemingly incurable disease by using the wonderful remedies referred to above. The "Golden Medical Discovery" possesses the peculiar property of nourishing and vitalizing the blood with the life-giving red corpuscles which build up healthy flesh and muscular strength.

In the special weaknesses and diseases of the feminine organs, the "Favorite Prescription" is a perfect and positive specific. It is the only scientific medicine prepared for that purpose by an educated physician and specialist in that particular field of practice.

For weak and nervous women these two medicines taken conjointly constitute the most marvelously successful course of treatment known to the medical profession.

For nearly 30 years Dr. Pierce has been chief consulting physician to the Invalid Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., at the head of a splendid staff of associate specialists, graduates from the leading medical universities of America and Europe.

HOME SECRETS.

East Liverpool Mothers Keep Them, but With a Little Light There Need be None.

How carefully mother guards the secrets of her boys and girls. At night, as she carefully tucks the bed-clothes around them, she chides and warns that mother will be angry if they repeat last night's offense, softly saying to herself, "It's only a habit, but I must break them of it." This is mother's mistake. The children cannot help it, and sweet, clean, dry beds can be the resting place of every child when it is understood that the cause is not a habit, but a weakness that can be cured. Active life of the little ones tends to weakening the kidneys, and weak kidneys means inability to retain the urine. This is a condition, not a habit, and should have the same prompt attention you would give to the marked symptoms of any disease. One Doan's Kidney Pills taken twice a day and at bedtime will strengthen the kidneys of a child, and in a short time there will be no cause to scold, for the so-called habit will disappear promptly.

Here's an Ashtabula mother that adds her indorsement to our words:

Mrs. E. O. Cruea, residing at 239 Prospect street, says: "I got Doan's Kidney Pills for my little boy, thirteen years of age, who has been, since he was nine years old, troubled with a weakness of the urinary organs. At that time he was taken with spasms that physicians attributed to worms. These were checked in time, but his kidneys did not regain their strength, and non-retention of urine while sleeping has embarrassed the little fellow very much and caused very much annoyance to me. We have had him treated by physicians without his obtaining any relief in that particular way, and you can realize how pleased we are to be able to check it by using Doan's Kidney Pills. Immediately we began his kidneys grew stronger. I know that there are many children that way, and that mothers would be only too glad to learn of a cure. I can, without any hesitancy, recommend those pills for that, and you may refer to me in that respect."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50. Sent by mail on receipt of price, by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

CHILD ACTS LIKE A DOG

A Peculiar Case Which Is Attracting Attention.

OFFICER JOHNSON MAY WIN OUT

As Effort Being Made to Have All the Town Attend the Brotherhood Picnic. Heating a School Building—A Troublesome Kite.

A peculiar case has developed in the central part of the city. A year ago a little child was attacked and wounded by a dog. The animal was at once killed, and the little one soon recovered. Recently it began to act in a peculiar manner, crawling about on the floor, and snapping at persons as they passed. On one occasion it bit a neighbor's child, but it was not badly hurt. Medical aid was summoned and the child is now under treatment.

Sporting Notes.

The Wellsville clerks and an East Liverpool team played a striking game at the fair ground yesterday. The Wellsville boys were too much for their opponents, and if ever a Liverpool team lost a pennant this was the occasion. Wellsville scored 22 and East Liverpool 11. Now our boys' hats don't quite fit them, and they are wallowing in glory.

Professor Kinkade will not make the descent from his balloon by parachute this evening, on account of the parachute not being safe. One had been shipped him from St. Louis, but it did not arrive, and consequently he will descend with the balloon. Early this morning he was busy inflating it, and stated that he would do the best he could under the circumstances to entertain the crowd. This feature of the day's sport will prove interesting.

Heakin will not likely play in center today on account of an accident in football practice last evening, and the lineup will be changed from that published yesterday.

A Troublesome Kite.

Several boys have been busily engaged trying to fly a mammoth kite. It measures 4½x7 feet. The first trial was not successful, and yesterday, after trying a couple of bricks to the tail, they again made the attempt, but failed. One boy is not able to hold the monster when the wind causes it to rise.

Heating a School.

Just now the school board are laboring with the question of heaters in the West End building. For some reason the building has not been successfully heated, and now there is a division among the board as to how the matter shall be remedied.

ICE CAVES.

In California With Their Product as Clear as Crystal.

In Modoc county, Cal., is an immense field of lava covered with a beautiful forest of conifers, which is inhabited by deer, bear, panther, lynx, coyote, porcupine and numerous fur bearing animals whose pelts are of value to the trapper. It was in these lava beds that the Modoc Indians made their stand against the government troops some years ago and were with very great difficulty destroyed. It is here that the ice caves are found, and from them the Modocs drew their water supply while besieged by the troops.

One never having been over a lava field can form but little idea of the chaotic manner in which the ingenious workmen have left the products of their labor. The only order observed is disorder of the most exaggerated kind, wherein every mass of rock has been twisted or raised or depressed or arched over some cavern in a different way from that of its neighbors. The caves scattered throughout these lava beds are of very varying shapes and dimensions. Some are mere covert ways, with an arch of stone thrown over them. Others are immense chambers some yards from the surface, another kind is sunk quite deeply and may be in a series of chambers united by a corridor that opens at the surface, while another kind seems to go directly to the center of the earth without stopping.

It is here that the stores of ice are found, which is formed from water that filters in annually from the melting snows above. Every winter the lava beds are covered with a fall of snow which varies from two to ten feet in depth. The temperature over this region in the coldest weather is often 20 or more degrees below zero, so that any water that might be in the caves is frozen solid, unless the caves' mouths should be entirely covered with snow, which is not often the case. Now, when spring comes and the snow melts, the water percolates through into the cold storage chambers beneath and is there congealed by the prevailing cold. It is in this way that the ice has been made and stored for years. And were these caves accessible to market they would furnish the purest of ice to many cities for years to come.—Popular Science News.

Two Horses.

The editor of the New York Christian Advocate learned not long since from a coachman that horses are not unlike human beings. He writes:

Riding in a friend's carriage one day, we noticed that the coachman made constant efforts to restrain one of the horses and to hasten the other. As the pair were handsome and perfectly mated, we said, "What is the difference between these horses, that you are constantly touching up one and holding in the other?"

Said he: "The one that I whip can not possibly overwork himself. I will not say that he is lazy, but he is so made that he never can and never will do himself any damage. It would be impossible to whip him so hard that he would hurt himself. The other can trot a mile in less than 2:25, and he would trot from the love of it until he dropped dead. Hot or cold, he does his best."

Dr. H. F. Fisk, principal of the academy of the Northwestern university, is an exact man, says the Chicago Inter Ocean. He has made it a rule that for all absences from recitations his students shall write out reasons in full why they were away and what recitations were missed. One day Dr. Fisk received a note as follows:

"On account of the earache, headache, stomach ache and cramps I was unable to attend algebra at 8 a. m., grammar at 10 a. m. and English at 3 p. m."

Dr. Fisk excused the student, but at the same time took occasion to rebuke him for not stating in his letter where he had cramps.

WILL Mr. Chapman attempt to start his mines if the operators decide to ship coal without first settling with their striking employees?

GOVERNOR PINGREE'S men have struck for higher wages, and the great apostle of potatoes will now have an opportunity to prove that he doesn't mind the pinch even if the shoe is on his own foot.

THE farmer who loses the key of his grain bins for a few weeks' will likely have more money in the end than his neighbor who believes that dollar wheat is only an uncertainty too good to ever become a reality.

THE sounds of prosperity are heard in all parts of the country. They began over in the cotton and woolen mills of New England, and have spread west and south until the whole country is feeling the new industrial life.

IF Coxe is going to take the stump during the campaign it is to be hoped that he will not overlook East Liverpool in making out his route. For some reason his speeches always make the people of this town vote the Republican ticket.

ACCORDING to Consul General Osborn at London, English tin plate manufacturers are thinking of moving their plants to America. Perhaps we could land a few for this city. They would hunt far and find much worse locations.

SILVER is dropping and factories are opening, thus proving to Bryan and his friends that the Republicans made no promises without the conviction that those promises would be fulfilled. Next year Democracy must search for a new issue, something which says not a word of free trade and free silver, an issue, if it can be found, on which the party has not yet been whipped.

IT will be better for all concerned if the operators and miners can find some neutral ground upon which the strike can be arbitrated. Each day of idleness means the loss of thousands of dollars to both sides, and an attempt to import miners can only result in disorder and perhaps the loss of life. There are certainly terms with which both sides, however radical they may be just now, can be satisfied.

THE DAWN.
The dawn has certainly come for the Ceramic City. With every pottery in operation and selling almost as much ware as it can conveniently make, it takes rank with the busiest and most enterprising of the smaller cities of Ohio. And this is only the dawn. After a time when additional factories have been erected and other lines of railway allow us to market our product, East Liverpool will grow and expand. It already has the foundation, only a few years of prosperity are needed to rear upon it a city of such size and importance as will give it a world wide reputation. The good time is coming.

Another Proof.
The Tiltonville pottery which has been idle for three months is now in full operation, having started in every department last Wednesday.

New York Crockery Men Think It Is Com-ing Their Way.

The New York correspondent of Chi-na, Glass and Lamps, says:

Crockery and glassware men are not numerous, though there are, of course, more of them on hand than at the date of last report. It is a little too early yet for dealers in earthenware and glass-ware to show their numerical strength in the New York market. By the first of September they will be out in force. The proprietors of the big crockery houses are very hopeful as to the fall trade. Among a dozen prominent mer-chants just interviewed by your cor-respondent not one expressed himself as doubtful in regard to early results. The unanimous opinion, put in a few words, may be expressed thus: "We, crockery, glassware and lamp dealers, have had hard times almost to the point of de-spair, but we have always kept up our courage and hoped for the best. Now, that general prospects are improving, we are satisfied that prosperity will soon come to us as it has already come to men in other lines of business."

CHANGED A BILL,

But the Stranger Soon Learned It Was Bad.

James T. Cameron came here to visit from Carrollton, and last night boarded the Bedford to go to a West Virginia town. A negro approached him with the request that he change a $10 bill. Cameron accommodated him, and it was some time before he discovered that it was an imita-tion of confederate money. He quickly left the boat, and went to city hall where the trick was reported. Cameron says the negro has only one eye, and lives at Hookstown.

Manning and the Jesuits.

Edmund S. Purcell, who wrote the biography of Cardinal Manning that was so widely discussed and in some quarters condemned, wrote a paper for The Nineteenth Century entitled "On the Ethics of Suppression In Biography," in which he makes an interesting statement concerning Manning's rela-tions to the Jesuits:

Cardinal Manning could not endure—it was not in his nature—to be looked upon by the Jesuits as an "enemy of vital godliness." They fell under his ban. Metaphorically he "cursed them with bell, book and candle." In a laughing fashion their retort came quick:

Cardinals may come, cardinals may go, But we go on forever.

Cardinal Manning, as is known of all men, regarded the suppression of the Society of Jesus in 1773 as the work of God's hand. He likewise looked upon its restoration in 1827 as God's work. But his abiding hostility to the Jesuits, based, as he declared, on their corporate action in England and Rome, was testified by the prediction which he uttered on various occasions, "I foresee another 1773."

SLAVERY IN CALIFORNIA.

President to Be Appealed to For Chinese Girls Held as Slaves.

Leaders in Chinese mission work at San Francisco are circulating a petition to be sent to President McKinley ask-ing him to request congress to appoint a commission to investigate the horrors of human slavery that are perpetrated by those who hold Chinese girls in bondage. This petition after reciting provisions of the fourteenth amend-ment, declares that there is now in San Francisco and California a condition of slavery under which there are more than 1,000 women held in bondage, bought and sold as chattels and kept in involuntary servitude. These slaves are scourged, beaten, tortured and even killed by their owners in insolent de-fiance of law. The number of these slaves is annually recruited by importa-tions from China, in violation of the exclusion act. Workers in Christian missions receive constant appeals from these women, calling for aid to escape, but it is difficult to effect their escape, and those instrumental in this good work have recently been threatened with death by traffickers in human be-ings.

If the president acts on this petition, congress will surely appoint a commis-sion, which will ascertain what federal officials are responsible for this illicit traffic, that means such large profits to Chinese slave dealers. A constant stream of recruits is coming in from China to supply vacancies created by cruelty, disease and death. Recently some aggravated cases of cruelty and bold threats of slave dealers against mission workers have led to this appeal to the president to stamp out the vilest form of oriental slavery which has gained a firm foothold in California.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

TIRES THAT LEAK.

The Morgan & Wright single-tube quick-repair tire must be regarded as a distinct improvement in bicycle tire construction. It has the following ad-vantages:

While punctures in it can be re-paired with plugs, or semi-liquid in-jections, as well as in any other single-tube tire, it can be permanently repaired by using the quick-repair strip inside the tire. See cut No. 1.

By injecting M. & W. quick-repair cement through the puncture, and then pressing down on the tire with the thumb, as in cut No. 2, the repair strip inside is picked up by the cement, thus closing the puncture, as in cut No. 3.

The Morgan & Wright single-tube quick-repair tire is guaranteed non-porous. This is on account of the way in which it is made. Nearly every rider has heard of tires that "leak like a sieve."

Many tires rot, because water gets into the fabric between the two layers of rubber. The Morgan & Wright fabric is proof against moisture.

Everybody knows how comfortable Morgan & Wright tires are, and yet how seldom they puncture. This is due to the fabric.

Ask any bicycle dealer whether other tires last as long as Morgan & Wright tires. Ask, also, what the Morgan & Wright guarantee means. Morgan & Wright tires are repaired free of charge, at the factory in Chicago or at any of the Morgan & Wright free repair shops, located in the principal cities.

N. B.—When you have a puncture, get right off. Riding a tire flat, when it has a tack or nail in it, may damage it considerably.

SALE OF BONDS.

OFFICE OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION, EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO, JULY 23, 1897.

The bonds will be issued under the authority conferred by section 3994 of the Revised Statutes of Ohio, and by a general elec-tion held November 3, 1896. The bonds will be issued in sums of $500 each; will be dated September 17, 1897, and will be payable at the rate of $2,000 each year after six years from the date thereof. The bonds will bear inter-est at the rate of 4 per cent, per annum, pay-able semi-annually by coupons attached thereto, both principal and interest to be payable at the office of the Treasurer of said city.

The bonds will be ready for delivery on September 17, 1897, and must be paid for on that day in cash or certified check. Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check on some National bank in the sum of $500, payable to the Clerk of the Board of Education as a guarantee that the bonds will be promptly paid for when ready for deliv-ery. The checks of those to whom the bonds are not awarded, will be returned on or before September 8th 1897. The bonds will not be sold for less than their par value, and the right and privilege is reserved by the Board of Education to reject any and all bids.

CHANGED A BILL.

But the Stranger Soon Learned It Was Bad.

James T. Cameron came here to visit from Carrollton, and last night boarded the Bedford to go to a West Virginia town. A negro approached him with the request that he change a $10 bill. Cameron accommodated him, and it was some time before he discovered that it was an imitation of confederate money. He quickly left the boat, and went to city hall where the trick was reported.
Cameron says the negro has only one eye, and lives at Hookstown.

Manning and the Jesuits.

Edmund S. Purcell, who wrote the biography of Cardinal Manning that was so widely discussed and in some quarters condemned, wrote a paper for The Nineteenth Century entitled "On the Ethics of Suppression In Biography," in which he makes an interesting statement concerning Manning's relations to the Jesuits:

Cardinal Manning could not endure
—it was not in his nature—to be looked upon by the Jesuits as an "enemy of vital godliness." They fell under his
ban. Metaphorically he "cursed them with bell, book and candle." In a laughing fashion their retort came quick:

Cardinals may come, cardinals may go,
But we go on forever.

Cardinal Manning, as is known of all men, regarded the suppression of the Society of Jesus in 1773 as the work of God's hand. He likewise looked upon its restoration in 1827 as God's work.
But his abiding hostility to the Jesuits, based, as he declared, on their corporate action in England and Rome, was testified by the prediction which he uttered
on various occasions, "I foresee another 1773."

His Chance.

SLAVERY IN CALIFORNIA.

President to Be Appealed to For Chinese
Girls Held as Slaves.

Leaders in Chinese mission work at San Francisco are circulating a petition to be sent to President McKinley asking him to request congress to appoint a commission to investigate the horrors of human slavery that are perpetrated by those who hold Chinese girls in bondage. This petition, after reciting provisions of the fourteenth amendment, declares that there is now in San Francisco and California a condition of slavery under which there are more than 1,000 women held in bondage, bought and sold as chattels and kept in involuntary servitude. These slaves are scourged, beaten, tortured and even killed by their owners in insolent defiance of law. The number of these slaves is annually recruited by importations from China, in violation of the exclusion act. Workers in Christian missions receive constant appeals from these women, calling for aid to escape,
but it is difficult to effect their escape,
and those instrumental in this good work have recently been threatened with death by traffickers in human beings.

If the president acts on this petition,
congress will surely appoint a commission, which will ascertain what federal officials are responsible for this illicit traffic, that means such large profits to Chinese slave dealers. A constant stream of recruits is coming in from China to supply vacancies created by cruelty, disease and death. Recently some aggravated cases of cruelty and bold threats of slave dealers against mission workers have led to this appeal to the president to stamp out the vilest form of oriental slavery which has gained a firm foothold in California.—

TIRES THAT LEAK.

The Morgan & Wright single-tube quick-repair tire must be regarded as a distinct improvement in bicycle tire construction. It has the following advantages:

While punctures in it can be repaired with plugs, or semi-liquid injections, as well as in any other single-tube tire, it can be permanently repaired by using the quick-repair strip inside the tire. See cut No. 1.

cement through the puncture, and then pressing down on the tire with strip inside is picked up by the cement, thus closing the puncture, as in cut

No. 3.

The Morgan & Wright single-tube quick-repair tire is guaranteed not porous. This is on account of the way in which it is made. Nearly every rider has heard of tires that "leak like a sieve."

Many tires rot, because water gets into the fabric between the two layers of rubber. The Morgan & Wright fabric is proof against moisture.

Everybody knows how comfortable
Morgan & Wright tires are, and yet how seldom they puncture. This is due to the fabric.

Ask any bicycle dealer whether other tires last as long as Morgan &
Wright tires. Ask, also, what the Morgan & Wright guarantee means.
Morgan & Wright tires are repaired free of charge, at the factory in Chicago or at any of the Morgan &
Wright free repair shops, located in the principal cities.

N. B.—When you have a puncture, get right off. Riding a tire flat, when it has a tack or nail in it, may damage it considerably.

Council and the Sewer Commission Meet.

IT WILL COST A LOT OF MONEY

But the Property Owners Are Willing to Pay Their Share, and the Officials Believe Something Should Be Done Now in Order That Work May Begin Next Spring.

Every member of the sewer commission, and President Peach, Mr. Ohlhansen, Mr. Challis, Doctor Marshall and Mr. Ashbaugh assembled in the office of Mayor Gilbert last night, and for an hour or more discussed the advisability of sewerage Tanyard run.

Joseph G. Lee, president of the commission, was chosen chairman of the meeting, and stated that, as he understood it, the session was for the purpose of again considering this important matter. Nothing beyond the survey and preparation of plans could be done this year, but they could be prepared so that ground might be broken next spring.

Mr. McNicol wanted to hear from the committee appointed to confer with the property owners, and Mr. Arbuckle replied that Engineer George would talk with the railroad men, and the people had expressed themselves as favoring the idea, but had given no definite expression.

"The chief question is the construction of a main artery, I believe," said Mr. Croxall. "There is no denying the need of the system."

"The consent of the property owners is not necessary," interrupted Mr. Cartwright. "Council deems it necessary, and that is enough."

"The board of health want it, and that is enough," was Mr. Ashbaugh's comment. "All we must do is instruct the engineer."

"That's been done," said Clerk Hanley, and Doctor Marshall remarked that the work should be done right, Mr. Ashbaugh adding that the new district should take in Bradshaw, Huston and a part of Thompson additions. The doctor could not see where the old and new systems would cross, and was informed by Mr. Lee that there was no necessity for a crossing. There would be a dividing line.

"There is some question about the cost of another engineer," he continued "but we ought to have one in order to do it right."

"There will be an advantage in having Engineer George," said Clerk Hanley, "he knows all the plans."

"As I understood it," said Mr. Croxall, "the plan is to arch the run to the West End pottery and then use pipe to the river."

"We would have to determine the best system," replied the chairman.

"We want it so there would be no kick," said Mr. Challis. "I was thinking we might charge the work on the run to the public and the sewer to the property owners."

"If the people on the run are not benefited enough to assess it to the property then it could certainly be no benefit to the public," said the doctor.

"The kick is on the water course, not the sewer," replied Mr. Challis. "If the run can be covered in connection with the sewer, all well and good. That we'll find out later."

"I thought the committee were to find what the people were willing to do," said Mr. McNicol.

"So they will. The railroad agreed to pay $2,100, and Solicitor Grosshans thinks we had better accept it," said the chairman.

"What is the opinion of council?" asked Mr. Lee.

"It must be built, it's only a question of time," replied Mr. Peach.

"What we need is knowledge," added the doctor. Suppose we have to put in a double system, an arch from Eighth street will cost $125,000, and if we can't use it for sewage, it will be expensive."

"Perhaps it would be better to have a small sewer pipe on each side of the arch," was Mr. McNicol's idea. "They could be put in at the same time, and would be charged to the second system."

"Wouldn't it be better for council to first decide whether the sewer is to be built?" asked Mr. Croxall. "Details can be arranged afterward."

"We must find what we can do legally," answered the doctor. "I am in favor of it, but I would like to know how to do it."

"One of these plans must be adopted," said Mr. Croxall.

"Yes, what we want is to know if the sewer is to be built," said Mr. Lee.

The question of having it empty into the river was discussed at length, and it was decided to send for Doctor Probst, of the state board of health. Doctor Marshall then moved that sewer district No. 2 be created, and, after Mr. Ashbaugh had seconded the motion, it passed.

"If the sewer is to be built a number of small ones can be put in this fall," said Mr. McNicol. "People in Dew Drop, West Market and the alley back of Lincoln avenue suffer in winter, and we could allow them to connect up now. The only thing is when and how."

"Council must take care of the main sewer," said Mr. Lee.

"I don't see why," said the doctor. The fight is to get rid of Tanyard run because it is a menace to the health of the city. We take it up because it hurts the health of the city, not alone the property owner along the run. The cost would be assessed against all the property in the district. It would start from the middle of Fifth or Sixth and Kossuth streets taking in all the property beyond that."

This brought out the assertion that some of this property had already been assessed, but if the bill was paid out of the general fund the whole city would have to bear its share. It developed that the arch would cost $8 a foot for a short distance, and $6 for longer distances. Doctor Marshall said if it was not necessary to construct the arch as a sanitary measure there was no need for it at all, and that part of town could be drained by a 12 inch sewer.

At length it was decided to place the matter in the hands of the sewer commission to investigate, and report at a meeting to be held one week from next Tuesday night. The commission will see just what authority it has, what the railroad company will do, and investigate approved methods for sewerage troublesome districts of this sort.

HE HAD VISITORS

When He Returned From a Visit in the Country.

At 10:30 o'clock last evening, Charles Whippler, of West Grant street, came to the fire station and asked that officers come to his house, as burglars were there. Officers Terrence and Wood were detailed, but after a careful search failed to find any one.

Whippler and his family were in the country during the day, and when they returned in the evening, he found the house open and several lamps burning. He was about to enter the front door, but it was locked. When he went to the rear door he met the same fate. When an investigation was made, all the trunks were found open as well as the cellar door. Only a package of tobacco was missing.

Bicycle Accidents.

There were a number of bicycle mishaps, last evening, but none of them resulted seriously.

Two young people while riding a tandem across Sixth street were thrown from their machine by the front wheel catching in the car track.

A young man was displaying his skill in the Diamond when he ran his bicycle into the curbstone, mashing the front wheel.

Largest In Years.

A good day's business was transacted at the freight depot yesterday. When business for the day was closed at 4 o'clock it was found that 17 cars had been sent out, and eight were unloaded at the receiving shed. It is estimated 97 cars were handled during the day. For the month of August the business for the week just ended has been the largest for years.

HUNTING OUR COINERS

Agent Webb, of the Secret Service, Is In Town.

WARNED BANKS OF BAD BILLS

He Will Remain Here Until the Gang Is Broken Up, if There Happens to Be a Gang, or Until He Is Convinced He Is on the Wrong Track.

The people who have been flooding this section of Ohio with counterfeit coin during the past few months, will not be permitted to continue operations without a word of protest from Uncle Sam.

Detective John Webb, an agent of the United States secret service, whose office is in Cleveland, arrived in the city today, and expects to remain here some time. His mission is to run down the counterfeiters who have recently been so lavish with their money. Officer Terrence was working with the gentleman this morning, and succeeded in gathering up a lot of the coin that had been found in a tin box along the railroad, above East End. It was being kept as pocket pieces, but that had no influence on the officers. All that can be found will be confiscated. Mr. Webb also warned the banks about a new issue of bogus $2 bills.

SALEM'S SCHOOL BUILDING

Succeeds in Getting the Board in Court.

LISBON, Aug. 21. — [Special] — The board of education of Salem is involved in a suit growing out of financial troubles arising from the erection of its new school buildings. The contract was given W. C. Wilkins, and the plaintiffs are W. A. Wilkins and other sub-contractors. They sue for 20 per cent of their estimates for labor and material. The estimates aggregate $10,000. The board has paid 80 per cent, and, under some agreement between the board and the Mercantile Trust company of Pittsburgh, they are about to use the remainder of the reserve fund to complete the building. An injunction is asked.

G. N. Crawford, of this place, filed answer in the $5,000 breach of promise suit instituted by Harriet A. Blair. It constitutes a general denial of all charges, except that he was recently married to Mrs. Fannie Marlan.

Elizabeth Johnson filed suit today to recover $100 from Thomas Rogers, of Salineville. It is due on a note.

J. Fife, of Lisbon, complained to Prosecutor Speaker against John Lewis, of Salem, charging him with having enticed his 14-year-old daughter to a house of questionable character. Last Tuesday Lewis operated a show here. He was arrested in Salem today.

A marriage license was issued to George Wills and Lydia Boil.

PREPARATIONS COMPLETE.

Labor Day Promises to Be a Great Success.

The Labor day committee talked business, last evening. The different committees reported progress, while the sport committee stated that the Young Men's Christian association, Turners and Amateur Athletic association had announced their intention of taking part in the field day sports, and several events will be added to the program for their benefit. All professionals will be barred, but it is probable one or more professional events will take place.

The committee deemed the price of the aeronaut too high, but the matter was left with the sports committee to settle.

The secretary was instructed to secure the sanction of the League of American Wheelmen, and it was sent for today.

After deciding to extend a general invitation to business men and farmers to participate in the parade the meeting adjourned.

STARTED THE SWITCH.

Work on the Pottery Will Begin Next Week.

Workmen yesterday began the construction of the switch which will connect the new Sebring plant in East End with the Cleveland and Pittsburgh. The contract for the stone work will be let next week, and before that is done the brick work will be under contract. The stock has almost all been taken.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—John W. Young, of Elizabeth, N. J., is in the city on business.

—Mr. and Mrs. Will George, of East Palestine, drove over the county to this city today.

—Blaine Cochran will leave this morning for his home in Pittsburgh, after a two-weeks' visit with his grandmother, Mrs. Hume, Lincoln avenue.

The Time Is Short.

The question of the hour is, are you in the market for the best line of clothing in America? We must sell this stock at some low price. We have a customer for our stock when reduced to a certain point.

We are nearing that point very rapidly therefore, we say again the time is short, and if you are needing a spring suit, now is your opportunity to purchase at less price than manufacturer's price. Remember all is for sale, stock, fixtures and lease. All must go quickly at some price, as we are positively retiring from the business, and anxious to do so as quickly as possible. We say you can get prices of us that no firm in the state of Ohio can offer. Don't delay. This is an important matter for you.

"It must be built, it's only a question of time," replied Mr. Peach.

"What we need is knowledge," added the doctor. Suppose we have to put in a double system, an arch from Eighth street will cost $125,000, and if we can't use it for sewage, it will be expensive."

"Perhaps it would be better to have a small sewer pipe on each side of the arch," was Mr. McNicol's idea. "They could be put in at the same time, and would be charged to the second system."

"Wouldn't it be better for council to first decide whether the sewer is to be built?" asked Mr. Croxall. "Details can be arranged afterward."

"We must find what we can do legally," answered the doctor. "I am in favor of it, but I would like to know how to do it."

"One of these plans must be adopted," said Mr. Croxall.

"Yes, what we want is to know if the sewer is to be built," said Mr. Lee.

The question of having it empty into the river was discussed at length, and it was decided to send for Doctor Probst, of the state board of health. Doctor Marshall then moved that sewer district No. 2 be created, and after Mr. Ashbaugh had seconded the motion, it passed.

"If the sewer is to be built a number of small ones can be put in this fall," said Mr. McNicol. "People in Dew Drop, West Market and the alley back of Lincoln avenue suffer in winter, and we could allow them to connect up now. The only thing is when and how."

"Council must take care of the main sewer," said Mr. Lee.

"I don't see why," said the doctor. The fight is to get rid of Tanyard run because it is a menace to the health of the city. We take it up because it hurts the health of the city, not alone the property owner along the run. The cost would be assessed against all the property in the district. It would start from the middle of Fifth or Sixth and Kossuth streets taking in all the property beyond that."

This brought out the assertion that some of this property had already been assessed, but if the bill was paid out of the general fund the whole city would have to bear its share. It developed that the arch would cost $8 a foot for a short distance, and $6 for longer distances. Doctor Marshall said if it was not necessary to construct the arch as a sanitary measure there was no need for it at all, and that part of town could be drained by a 12 inch sewer.

At length it was decided to place the matter in the hands of the sewer commission to investigate, and report at a meeting to be held one week from next Tuesday night. The commission will see just what authority it has, what the railroad company will do, and investigate approved methods for sewerage troublesome districts of this sort.

HE HAD VISITORS

When He Returned From a Visit in the Country.

At 10:30 o'clock last evening, Charles Whipple, of West Grant street, came to the fire station and asked that officers come to his house, as burglars were there. Officers Terrence and Wood were detailed, but after a careful search failed to find any one.

Whipple and his family were in the country during the day, and when they returned in the evening, he found the house open and several lamps burning. He was about to enter the front door, but it was locked. When he went to the rear door he met the same fate. When an investigation was made, all the trunks were found open as well as the cellar door. Only a package of tobacco was missing.

Bicycle Accidents.

There were a number of bicycle mishaps, last evening, but none of them resulted seriously.

Two young people while riding a tandem across Sixth street were thrown from their machine by the front wheel catching in the car track.

A young man was displaying his skill in the Diamond when he ran his bicycle into the curbstone, mashing the front wheel.

Largest In Years.

A good day's business was transacted at the freight depot yesterday. When business for the day was closed at 4 o'clock it was found that 17 cars had been sent out, and eight were unloaded at the receiving shed. It is estimated 97 cars were handled during the day. For the month of August the business for the week just ended has been the largest for years.

HUNTING OUR COINERS

Agent Webb, of the Secret Service, Is In Town.

WARNED BANKS OF BAD BILLS

He Will Remain Here Until the Gang Is Broken Up, if There Happens to Be a Gang, or Until He Is Convinced He Is on the Wrong Track.

The people who have been flooding this section of Ohio with counterfeit coin during the past few months, will not be permitted to continue operations without a word of protest from Uncle Sam.

Detective John Webb, an agent of the United States secret service, whose office is in Cleveland, arrived in the city today, and expects to remain here some time. His mission is to run down the counterfeiters who have recently been so lavish with their money. Officer Terrence was working with the gentleman this morning, and succeeded in gathering up a lot of the coin that had been found in a tin box along the railroad, above East End. It was being kept as pocket pieces, but that had no influence on the officers. All that can be found will be confiscated. Mr. Webb also warned the banks about a new issue of bogus $2 bills.

SALEM'S SCHOOL BUILDING

Succeeds In Getting the Board In Court.

LISBON, Aug. 21.—[Special]—The board of education of Salem is involved in a suit growing out of financial troubles arising from the erection of its new school buildings. The contract was given W. C. Wilkins, and the plaintiffs are W. A. Wilkins and other sub-contractors. They sue for 20 per cent of their estimates for labor and material. The estimates aggregate $10,000. The board has paid 80 per cent, and, under some agreement between the board and the Mercantile Trust company of Pittsburgh, they are about to use the remainder of the reserve fund to complete the building. An injunction is asked.

G. N. Crawford, of this place, filed answer in the $5,000 breach of promise suit instituted by Harriet A. Blair. It constitutes a general denial of all charges, except that he was recently married to Mrs. Fannie Marian.

Elizabeth Johnson filed suit today to recover $100 from Thomas Rogers, of Salineville. It is due on a note.

J. Fife, of Lisbon, complained to Prosecutor Speaker against John Lewis, of Salem, charging him with having enticed his 14-year-old daughter to a house of questionable character. Last Tuesday Lewis operated a show here. He was arrested in Salem today.

A marriage license was issued to George Wills and Lydia Boil.

PREPARATIONS COMPLETE.

Labor Day Promises to Be a Great Success.

The Labor day committee talked business, last evening. The different committees reported progress, while the sport committee stated that the Young Men's Christian association, Turners and Amateur Athletic association had announced their intention of taking part in the field day sports, and several events will be added to the program for their benefit. All professionals will be barred, but it is probable one or more professional events will take place.

The committee deemed the price of the aeronaut too high, but the matter was left with the sports committee to settle.

The secretary was instructed to secure the sanction of the League of American Wheelmen, and it was sent for today.

After deciding to extend a general invitation to business men and farmers to participate in the parade the meeting adjourned.

STARTED THE SWITCH.

Work on the Pottery Will Begin Next Week.

Workmen yesterday began the construction of the switch which will connect the new Sebring plant in East End with the Cleveland and Pittsburgh. The contract for the stone work will be let next week, and before that is done the brick work will be under contract. The stock has almost all been taken.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—John W. Young, of Elizabeth, N. J., is in the city on business.

—Mr. and Mrs. Will George, of East Palestine, drove over the county to this city today.

—Blaine Cochran will leave this morning for his home in Pittsburgh, after a two-weeks' visit with his grandmother, Mrs. Hume, Lincoln avenue.

The Time Is Short.

The question of the hour is, are you in the market for the best line of clothing in America? We must sell this stock at some low price. We have a customer for our stock when reduced to a certain point.

We are nearing that point very rapidly therefore, we say again the time is short, and if you are needing a spring suit, now is your opportunity to purchase at less price than manufacturer's price. Remember all is for sale, stock, fixtures and lease. All must go quickly at some price, as we are positively retiring from the business, and anxious to do so as quickly as possible. We say you can get prices of us that no firm in the state of Ohio can offer. Don't delay. This is an important matter for you.

Mothers, bring your boys. Buy Suits for them at lowest prices ever named in the city.

There is a strong probability that Ira Marlatt, the far famed prison demon, will be pardoned in a short time. For seven years he has been in prison for the murder of a neighbor in Columbiana county. The greater part of that time he was kept in an iron cell in the dark basement of the prison hospital, where a sunbeam was as infrequent a visitor as a woman. Marlatt developed extraordinary ingenuity in manufacturing weapons and tools with which to effect his escape. During the seven years of his confinement he had no less than 12 desperate conflicts with the guards. He half killed a number of them, and was, in almost every instance, left beaten into insensibility. He was absolutely unconquerable, and at last grew so vicious that orders were issued to the guards to kill him at the slightest provocation. His life was held to be too dangerous for the welfare of the institution. No chances were taken with him.

Part of this treatment was under the reign of Warden Coffin. But Mr. Coffin was not satisfied with the manner in which things were going. He tried to have Marlatt declared insane, but the physicians refused to do so. They were willing to admit that he was possessed of a devil, but he was sane, they said. Gradually his privileges were increased. Now he is one of the most orderly convicts in the institution, and has not broken a rule in the slightest degree for months. His fierce spirit was broken by kindness, after whips and irons had failed in the work.

Now Warden Coffin will ask that he be pardoned. He believes that Marlatt will be a good citizen when he is released, and that he will not again break the laws of the land. Mr. Coffin also believes that he has suffered enough in the solitary confinement of a dungeon to make up for the full sentence which he should serve. It is said there is a bright prospect for his release.

Klondyke

The Land of Golden Nuggets.

JOSEPH LADUE,

the new Bonanza King of the Klondyke Gold Regions, gives the facts. His book reads like "The Arabian Nights," BUT Joseph Ladue KNOWS whereof he writes. He was the first man on the spot when the first gold was discovered last August, 1896. He located one rich claim and immediately purchased twelve others at a low price before their value was known. He has refused $100,000 for any ONE of these claims, as they are rich with virgin gold nuggets, beyond the dream of avarice. Joseph Ladue then at the mouth of the Klondyke and Yukon Rivers, by erecting the first house in the region in September, one month after the gold was first discovered. He bought 178 acres from the government on the city site where his town lots 150x50 are now selling for $5,000 each.

Established Dawson City

Mr. Ladue was fortunate enough to be successful in his trading post investments to have on hand ample capital to carry out his plans, and there is no man living who is better posted on Alaska and the great North West Territories than Mr. Joseph Ladue. He has just returned from that country to his old home in Schuler Falls, N. Y., where he passed a large portion of his boyhood and early manhood. Mr. Ladue left his home nearly twenty years ago to seek his fortune in the west going first to the Black Hills, where he was successful in gold mining, thence to Arizona and the Pacific coast and finally located in Alaska and the northwest, where he has covered almost the entire country since 1882. Mr. Ladue is a typical pioneer: strong, hardy and resolute—a man of iron as one must needs be to go through the hardships he has and come out with a constitution unbroken and unimpaired at about the age of 43. Mr. Ladue has not only worked his muscles to good advantage to himself with the result of an abundance of the world's goods, far beyond the dreams of men, but he has evidently all this time been closely observing the conditions of that strange country—the Yukon Valley—which has so suddenly become one of the great centers upon which human interest throughout the world is focussed.

When the wonderful stories began to come down from the Yukon country it was naturally concluded that it was at least half exaggeration. That any such amount of gold could be taken in so short a time from a country like that under the most most unfavorable conditions was held to be incredible. But when the great bags of virgin gold began to be poured out upon mint counters in San Francisco under the eyes of the whole world (for modern journalism does this, annihilating time and space) people began to wonder and the wonder grew day by day as the real facts were disclosed, and now people who are well informed as to the facts declare that half the truth has not been told of the golden treasures of the Yukon Valley.

As we have already said, there is no man today alive who knows more about this wonderful country than does Mr. Ladue. What makes his talk of it specially interesting and reliable is the fact that his knowledge of it is practical. It has not been gained from hearsay nor from desultory visits made now and then at certain favorable seasons of the year, but from steady living there through the long summer days and the long winter nights, year in and year out for 15 years, where he now owns the best mining claims on the Klondyke and its tributaries.

In presenting his book to the public we do so knowing that it is by an authority on the subject of which he writes. His first work entitled

is a brief description of the new gold regions, and anyone desiring authentic information should not fail to avail themselves of our

Mr. Ladue is a typical pioneer: strong, hardy and resolute—a man of iron as one must needs be to go through the hardships he has and come out with a constitution unbroken and unimpaired at about the age of 43. Mr. Ladue has not only worked his muscles to good advantage to himself with the result of an abundance of the world's goods, far beyond the dreams of men, but he has evidently all this time been closely observing the conditions of that strange country—the Yukon Valley—which has so suddenly become one of the great centers upon which human interest throughout the world is focussed.

When the wonderful stories began to come down from the Yukon country it was naturally concluded that it was at least half exaggeration. That any such amount of gold could be taken in so short a time from a country like that under the most most unfavorable conditions was held to be incredible. But when the great bags of virgin gold began to be poured out upon mint counters in San Francisco under the eyes of the whole world (for modern journalism does this, annihilating time and space) people began to wonder and the wonder grew day by day as the real facts were disclosed, and now people who are well informed as to the facts declare that half the truth has not been told of the golden treasures of the Yukon Valley.

As we have already said, there is no man today alive who knows more about this wonderful country than does Mr. Ladue. What makes his talk of it specially interesting and reliable is the fact that his knowledge of it is practical. It has not been gained from hearsay nor from desultory visits made now and then at certain favorable seasons of the year, but from steady living there through the long summer days and the long winter nights, year in and year out for 15 years, where he now owns the best mining claims on the Klondyke and its tributaries.

In presenting his book to the public we do so knowing that it is by an authority on the subject of which he writes. His first work entitled

"Klondyke Nuggets"

is a brief description of the new gold regions, and anyone desiring authentic information should not fail to avail themselves of our

ONE TEACHER RESIGNED

Another Vacancy in the Central Building Corps.

EAST END ROOMS WERE RENTED

A Lot of Bills Paid at Last Night's Meeting of the Board of Education—A Janitor's Salary Was Increased—New Committee on Rules.

The board of education held a regular session last evening. It was opened by invocation by Mr. McGraw. The minutes of the last meeting and the special session of Tuesday evening were read and approved. Mr. Cripps reported that the committee on the East End building viewed the rooms offered by Colonel Hill to the board, and recommended that they be rented. The committee was discharged after the clerk was ordered to rent the rooms.

The following bills were read and ordered paid. Martin Elliott $10.95, Elmer Collins $3.75, John Orr $2, John Rinehart $11.25, James Green $41.56, Will Reed $4.30, J. C. Lutton $10, Diamond Hardware company $8.64, Union Planing Mill company $5.79, A. Watson $10.10, Western Union company $1.25, J. D. Sweed $212.79, J. C. Cain $9.41, J. T. Smith company $11.75, W. H. Adams, $2.12; Otto Schmidbauer, $9; Beach Novelty company, $7.50; Crisis, $22.50; Arbuthnot Bros., $16.75; sundries, $1.50; W. H. Travis, $9.65; James G. Dedrick, $3; Cook & Clark, $8.50; Rose & Co., $53.90.

After some little discussion Mrs. Highfield was elected janitress of the Sheridan avenue building at a salary of $15.15 a month and nine months' work.

Member Fisher asked that the salary of the janitor of the East End building be increased $5, or $30 a month. His wish was granted. A proposition from a local jeweler, who desires to repair the clocks in the various schools, was read. As Clerk Norris said that only one clock had been repaired since he was in office, the communication was laid over. After a short debate $3,000 insurance on the new East End and Gardendale buildings was placed.

The building committee was then asked to petition council to place a curb in front of the Sheridan avenue building. Messrs. Murphy and Pittinger were appointed to form new boundary lines of the several school districts, and make a report at the next meeting.

Mr. Vodrey said as the old committee on rules had been discharged, he thought it a good idea to have a new one appointed. Acting upon this, members McGraw, Norris and Superintendent Rayman were appointed. They will make a report at the next meeting.

The resignation of Miss May Bowers was read. The letter stated that she had secured a position in a Chicago school, as a drawing teacher.

"I hope they will not all resign before we get started," remarked Mr. Murphy.

The resignation was accepted, and Miss Moore was appointed to fill a vacancy. She will teach in A grammar school and will receive $40 a month. A salesman, representing a Youngstown school supply house, and one from Rochester, Pa., were given the floor, but none of their wares were purchased. The meeting then adjourned.

Pretty printing.

OUR work is not always perfect; but nine times out of ten, and six days in the week, we are doing the best work in eastern Ohio. We're equipped for it.

AN ARGUMENT:—There are eggs and eggs; the egg of yesterday looks, feels, measures and weighs like the egg of last month, but there's a slight difference in another respect, and that difference is worth money. It's just so with printing; the difference between the good work and poor is slight, but it's a difference that counts every time. It costs money, but it makes more—it changes the printing bills from an expense to an investment.

Until He Loved a Maid.

He never read the roses
Nor learned the lilies' lore.
The pansies blue, all diamond dew,
He, passing, trampled o'er.
The mignonette, the violet,
In vain with incense prayed.
He never thought that flowers meant aught
Until he loved a maid.

He heard a mavis calling.
He heard—and then forgot!
A lark leaped high and thrilled the sky.
He heard and wondered not.
All fain to please, among the trees,
Birds peeped and piped and played.
He'd ne'er repeat, "Dear God, how sweet!"
Until he loved a maid.

He never dreamed of beauty,
He never blessed the world,
The feathered hills, the rippling rills,
The sea's foam flag unfurled,
The summer's prime, the winter's rime,
The sunshine and the shade.
He did not care that earth was fair
Until he loved a maid.

She came, and with her advent
The very stars drew near,
And every bird his spirit stirred,
And every flower grew dear,
And all the earth went mad with mirth
To hear his homage paid.
"Oh, sure," he said, "I was as dead
Until I loved a maid!"

A State's Plant of Lobsters.

Chairman Charles H. Babcock of the fisheries committee of the New York state fisheries, game and forest commission says the plant of lobsters this season has been the largest in the history of the commission. It exceeded last year's plant by 2,200,000. The total number of lobsters planted this season was 6,896,420.

The plant of large mouth or Oswego black bass fry this season was the largest ever made in the state. The introduction of the gamy red throat trout from California is a success. There are nearly 2,000 of these fish in the Caledonia hatchery, and next spring the commission will be able to secure several thousand eggs from them.—New York Sun.

A New Anæsthetic.

A Polish chemist is said to have invented an anæsthetic which volatilizes rapidly upon exposure to the air, rendering the persons near unconscious for a long time. It is calculated that in war a bomb exploded in the midst of the enemy would have the effect of putting the entire body to sleep. A pellet of the substance broken under a man's nose put him to sleep for four hours.

Alaska.

Behind my arctic portals veiled I stand,
Fortune in one, death in the other hand.
White lie the wastes around me. Hidden deep,
The faithful tempests still my secrets keep,
No faltering hand to snatch my polar crown,
No weaking tear my guardian mountains down.
With wrath of storm, with ice set spire on spire,
Eathor am I—and mine the world's desire.

Until He Loved a Maid.

He never read the roses
Nor learned the lilies' lore.
The pansies blue, all diamond dew,
He, passing, trampled o'er.
The mignonette, the violet,
In vain with incense prayed.
He never thought that flowers meant aught
Until he loved a maid.

He heard a navis calling.
He heard—and then forgot!
A lark leaped high and thrilled the sky.
He heard and wondered not.
All fain to please, among the trees,
Birds peeped and piped and played.
He'd ne'er repeat, "Dear God, how sweet!"
Until he loved a maid.

He never dreamed of beauty,
He never blessed the world,
The heathered hills, the rippling rills,
The sea's foam flag unfurled,
The summer's prime, the winter's rime,
The sunshine and the shade.
He did not care that earth was fair
Until he loved a maid.

She came, and with her advent
The very stars drew near,
And every bird his spirit stirred,
And every flower grew dear,
And all the earth went mad with mirth
To hear his homage paid.
"Oh, sure," he said, "I was as dead
Until I loved a maid!"

A State's Plant of Lobsters.

Chairman Charles H. Babcock of the fisheries committee of the New York state fisheries, game and forest commission says the plant of lobsters this season has been the largest in the history of the commission. It exceeded last year's plant by 2,200,000. The total number of lobsters planted this season was 6,896,420.

The plant of large mouth or Oswego black bass fry this season was the largest ever made in the state. The introduction of the gamy red throat trout from California is a success. There are nearly 2,000 of these fish in the Caledonia hatchery, and next spring the commission will be able to secure several thousand eggs from them.—New York Sun.

A New Anæsthetic.

A Polish chemist is said to have invented an anæsthetic which volatilizes rapidly upon exposure to the air, rendering the persons near unconscious for a long time. It is calculated that in war a bomb exploded in the midst of the enemy would have the effect of putting the entire body to sleep. A pellet of the substance broken under a man's nose put him to sleep for four hours.

Alaska.

Behind my arctic portals veiled I stand,
Fortune in one, death in the other hand.
White lie the wastes around me. Hidden deep,
The faithful tempests still my secrets keep,
No faltering hand to snatch my polar crown,
No weaking tear my guardian mountains down.
With wrath of storm, with ice set spire on spire,
Hathorn am I—and mine the world's desire.

A PREACHER TO BE FREE.

Convicts Arrested For a Crime For Which He Was Sentenced.

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., Aug. 21.—Sheriff Shufelton and a deputy of Danville have arrested Noah Baney and Guy Van Tassel as they left the prison door upon the expiration of their terms. "Kid" Whitney, the third member of the trio, will not get out of the prison until October.

These three are involved in the Baney confession of the murder of Mrs. Thurza Hinshaw at Belleville on the night of Jan. 10, 1895, a crime for which her husband, Rev. W. E. Hinshaw, is now serving a life sentence.

Baney was taken to the scene of the murder and gave a description, which is convincing that his confession is true.

Valuable Advice From the Bench.

A country justice had been elected but a few days, when a young lawyer rushed in and demanded a capias. Now, that justice did not know a capias from a police cell, but he disliked to admit his ignorance. So he said:

"Now, see here, my friend. You are a young lawyer and, I fear, lack experience. I would advise you not to be too hasty. Don't be in a hurry. Wait 24 hours and then, if you think best, come to me, and I will give you a capias."

The young lawyer agreed and went away. The justice spent the remainder of the day getting acquainted with the writ called capias. When the limb of the law appeared the next morning, the court felt himself qualified to issue capias by the bushel.

Before he could speak, the young lawyer said:

"Mr. Justice, you were right. I was too hasty. I have that matter fixed up all right and do not need a capias. I have come to thank you for the good advice, and also have brought you the $2 fee you would have received for the capias, as I don't want you to lose by your good deed."

He went away believing the justice to be a paragon of good sense and legal lore.—Chicago Times-Herald.

A Lamp In His Pocket.

Not very many men carry lamps in their pockets, but there is at least one man who does, and that is the lamp-lighter on the elevated road. It is an alcohol lamp, like a section of brass cylinder, five or six inches long and an inch through, and with a slender tube two or three inches long, holding the wick, projecting at one end. The lamp-lighter comes in at the front door of the car with his lamp lighted. With a rapid ease acquired by experience he lights the six lamps, seeming almost not to pause in his progress through the car. If he is in the last car of the train, as he pulls down the chimney over the last lamp he has lighted and turns toward the rear door he blows out his own lamp and drops it in his pocket. His hands are now free. He throws back the door, walks out upon the platform, opens the gate and steps off upon the station platform or down upon the other side, ready to board the next train. A touch of a match will light the alcohol lamp.—New York Sun.

Forgiving.

An English religious paper says: "We may recall the anecdote of the highland chieftain who on his death-bed was asked by the minister to forgive an inveterate enemy. 'Vengeance is mine, saith the Lord,' was the text quoted by the man of peace in support of his argument. 'Yes, to be sure,' said the dying penitent, 'it is too sweet a morsel for a mortal. Well,' he added, 'I forgive him. But,' turning to his son—'de'il take you, Donald, if you forgive him.'"

What He Would Do.

Jinks—The idea of asking me what I'd do if I was rich! The question is simply idiotic.

Filkins—Why so?

Jinks—Because any one in his right mind would know that I would do nothing.—Brooklyn Life.

WHEAT REACHES A DOLLAR.

It Caused a Tremendous Sensation In the New York Pit.

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—The wheat market had another remarkable advance, September closing at 93 cents and December at 92½ cents, showing gains of 5½ cents and 5½ cents respectively. A sensational advance at Liverpool and poor crop reports were responsible for the jump, which was accompanied by scenes of excitement almost unparalleled. On the curb September wheat sold at 95½ cents.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 21.—Cash wheat sold at $1 in Minneapolis, the first time since the summer of 1890.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—September wheat in the local market reached the long-talked-of goal of $1 per bushel. Naturally enough, the incident created a tremendous sensation on the floor of the exchange, and was greeted with prolonged cheers from 500 throats, being re-echoed from the crowded galleries.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 21.—Cash wheat sold for $1 a bushel on sample.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 21.—A record-breaker was caused in wheat, and the scenes on 'change were the most exciting that have been witnessed there for many a long day. The market opened at 97½ cents for cash and August deliveries, and steadily advanced with New York and Chicago until the close, when the price for cash wheat had run up to $1.02, while $1.01¼ was bid and $1.02 asked for August.

DEFICIENT EUROPEAN CROPS.

Advices to the Agricultural Department Confirm the Information.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Advices to the agricultural department from private and, indirectly, from official sources, confirm the predictions of a considerable deficiency in the European wheat crop, while rye, which is the chief bread grain of Eastern Europe, is also short. This fact, a department of Statistician Hyde of the department says, as well as the wheat deficiency, will tend to restrict the exportation of the latter from those European countries which usually have a surplus of that grain.

As to non-European countries other than the United States their aggregate contribution to the European supply will be materially affected by the fact that India, denuded by the famine, will have practically no wheat to export.

RAILROAD TO THE KLONDYKE.

Surveying Party Now in the Field Selecting a Route.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—The special correspondent of The Bulletin, writing from Juneau, Alaska, under date of Aug. 11, says that railroad communication between Juneau and Dawson will be one of the things of the near future.

Next spring 5,000 men will be at work and the road will probably be completed before next fall. The proposed road is to start from the head of steamboat navigation in the Taku river and run to Lake Tesha.

Light draught steamboats will be operated from each end of the new road, and it will take four days to make the journey from Juneau to Dawson. There is a surveying party already in the field.

VISITED HIS OLD CORPS.

Only Part the President Took In Army of Potomac Review.

TROY, N. Y., Aug. 21.—The only active part that the president took in the proceedings of the reunion of the Army of the Potomac was a visit to the Ninth corps, of which he is a member. The corps gave him an ovation, and finally elected him honorary president. The president in a few words accepted the honor, signed his name to the register and left the room with the corps badge upon his breast. He stated that he was a sergeant in the Twenty-third Ohio regiment of the Ninth corps, under command of Rutherford B. H. yes.

In the evening the president attended the public meeting of the Army of the Potomac in Music hall. The place was jammed to suffocation and the president received a great ovation. General Alger was not with him, having left on a special train for New York to attend to special business for the president. Governor Black made the opening address. Mayor Malloy then made a few appropriate remarks. There was a brief response by the president of the society and then Major C. A. Woodruff, the orator of the day, delivered an oration.

Following this came the delivery of the army poem by Captain R. W. Raymond, U. S. V. President McKinley and his party later took the train for Bluff Point.

While in Troy the president visited a great collar factory, where 2,000 girls are employed. He also inspected the Watervliet arsenal. A big parade occurred during the day.

A PREACHER TO BE FREE.

Convicts Arrested For a Crime For Which He Was Sentenced.

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., Aug. 21.—Sheriff Shufelton and a deputy of Danville have arrested Noah Baney and Guy Van Tassel as they left the prison door upon the expiration of their terms. "Kid" Whitney, the third member of the trio, will not get out of the prison until October.

These three are involved in the Baney confession of the murder of Mrs. Thurza Hinshaw at Belleville on the night of Jan. 10, 1895, a crime for which her husband, Rev. W. E. Hinshaw, is now serving a life sentence.

Baney was taken to the scene of the murder and gave a description, which is convincing that his confession is true.

Valuable Advice From the Bench.

A country justice had been elected but a few days, when a young lawyer rushed in and demanded a capias. Now, that justice did not know a capias from a police cell, but he disliked to admit his ignorance. So he said:

"Now, see here, my friend. You are a young lawyer and, I fear, lack experience. I would advise you not to be too hasty. Don't be in a hurry. Wait 24 hours and then, if you think best, come to me, and I will give you a capias."

The young lawyer agreed and went away. The justice spent the remainder of the day getting acquainted with the writ called capias. When the limb of the law appeared the next morning, the court felt himself qualified to issue capias by the bushel.

Before he could speak, the young lawyer said:

"Mr. Justice, you were right. I was too hasty. I have that matter fixed up all right and do not need a capias. I have come to thank you for the good advice, and also have brought you the $2 fee you would have received for the capias, as I don't want you to lose by your good deed."

He went away believing the justice to be a paragon of good sense and legal lore.—Chicago Times-Herald.

A Lamp In His Pocket.

Not very many men carry lamps in their pockets, but there is at least one man who does, and that is the lamp-lighter on the elevated road. It is an alcohol lamp, like a section of brass cylinder, five or six inches long and an inch through, and with a slender tube two or three inches long, holding the wick, projecting at one end. The lamp-lighter comes in at the front door of the car with his lamp lighted. With a rapid ease acquired by experience he lights the six lamps, seeming almost not to pause in his progress through the car. If he is in the last car of the train, as he pulls down the chimney over the last lamp he has lighted and turns toward the rear door he blows out his own lamp and drops it in his pocket. His hands are now free. He throws back the door, walks out upon the platform, opens the gate and steps off upon the station platform or down upon the other side, ready to board the next train. A touch of a match will light the alcohol lamp.—New York Sun.

Forgiving.

An English religious paper says: "We may recall the anecdote of the highland chieftain who on his death-bed was asked by the minister to forgive an inveterate enemy. 'Vengeance is mine, saith the Lord,' was the text quoted by the man of peace in support of his argument. 'Yes, to be sure,' said the dying penitent, 'it is too sweet a morsel for a mortal. Well,' he added, 'I forgive him. But'—turning to his son—'de'il take yau, Donald, if you forgive him.'"

What He Would Do.

Jinks—The idea of asking me what I'd do if I was rich! The question is simply idiotic.

Filkins—Why so?

Jinks—Because any one in his right mind would know that I would do nothing.—Brooklyn Life.

The first anthropological society, for the study of mankind considered with reference to the animal history of the race, was founded in London in 1863.

WHEAT REACHES A DOLLAR.

It Caused a Tremendous Sensation In the New York Pitt.

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—The wheat market had another remarkable advance, September closing at 93 cents and December at 92½ cents, showing gains of 5½ cents and 5¾ cents respectively. A sensational advance at Liverpool and poor crop reports were responsible for the jump, which was accompanied by scenes of excitement almost unparalleled. On the curb September wheat sold at 95½ cents.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 21.—Cash wheat sold at $1 in Minneapolis, the first time since the summer of 1890.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—September wheat in the local market reached the long-talked-of goal of $1 per bushel. Naturally enough, the incident created a tremendous sensation on the floor of the exchange, and was greeted with prolonged cheers from 500 throats, being re-echoed from the crowded galleries.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 21.—Cash wheat sold for $1 a bushel on sample.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 21.—A record-breaker was caused in wheat, and the scenes on 'change were the most exciting that have been witnessed there for many a long day. The market opened at 97½ cents for cash and August deliveries, and steadily advanced with New York and Chicago until the close, when the price for cash wheat had run up to $1.02, while $1.01¾ was bid and $1.02 asked for August.

DEFICIENT EUROPEAN CROPS.

Advices to the Agricultural Department Confirm the Information.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Advices to the agricultural department from private and, indirectly, from official sources, confirm the predictions of a considerable deficiency in the European wheat crop, while rye, which is the chief bread grain of Eastern Europe, is also short. This fact, a special report of Statistician Hyde of the department says, as well as the wheat deficiency, will tend to restrict the exportation of the latter from those European countries which usually have a surplus of that grain.

As to non-European countries other than the United States their aggregate contribution to the European supply will be materially affected by the fact that India, denuded by the famine, will have practically no wheat to export.

RAILROAD TO THE KLONDYKE.

Surveying Party Now in the Field Selecting a Route.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—The special correspondent of The Bulletin, writing from Juneau, Alaska, under date of Aug. 11, says that railroad communication between Juneau and Dawson will be one of the things of the near future.

Next spring 5,000 men will be at work and the road will probably be completed before next fall. The proposed road is to start from the head of steamboat navigation in the Taku river and run to Lake Teslia.

Light draught steamboats will be operated from each end of the new road, and it will take four days to make the journey from Juneau to Dawson. There is a surveying party already in the field.

VISITED HIS OLD CORPS.

Only Part the President Took In Army of Potomac Review.

TROY, N. Y., Aug. 21.—The only active part that the president took in the proceedings of the reunion of the Army of the Potomac was a visit to the Ninth corps, of which he is a member. The corps gave him an ovation, and finally elected him honorary president. The president in a few words accepted the honor, signed his name to the register and left the room with the corps badge upon his breast. He stated that he was a sergeant in the Twenty-third Ohio regiment of the Ninth corps, under command of Rutherford B. H. yes.

In the evening the president attended the public meeting of the Army of the Potomac in Music hall. The place was jammed to suffocation and the president received a great ovation. General Alger was not with him, having left on a special train for New York to attend to special business for the president. Governor Black made the opening address. Mayor Malloy then made a few appropriate remarks. There was a brief response by the president of the society and then Major C. A. Woodruff, the orator of the day, delivered an oration.

Following this came the delivery of the army poem by Captain R. W. Raymond, U. S. V. President McKinley and his party later took the train for Bluff Point.
